Thread: I will put your avatar + username on my garage wall.

Mr. Robot - October 13, 2020, 6:23 pm

So looking at buying another house and short on the deposit by about $5k total.

Thought this would be cool as I have a tattoo that is an HF members username that he paid for in the past.

>> I will make an HF mural in my garage/studio with your username + avatar.

The price is $100 USD.

If you want something extra put up there such as a website link for advertising or anything else - it will be extra.

Let's get it boiiis.

It will also be for when I do HF streams and stream my game development - Anyone who pays $500 or more will be able to visit the house if they are ever in country or around.

[contract=tid]Start Contract[/contract]

Any lewd content is allowed.

You will also get a permanent spot in any HF groups I run in the future + discord content.

Honestly, I am not trying to trash your thread because this is much better than begging for money, but do you think any members here will buy it? Just wondering if you think this will actually help you get that deposit. Guess it's worth a shot, huh?

I know for certain that not a damn soul would give me $100 if I did this, but maybe people think highly of you on here.

I've done worse for more.

This isn't for everyone however I have also given around 60k in 5 years to different users to help them out in the past. If they are now in a better financial situation they might be willing to help out - as well as the members who are already well off and can afford a bit of a meme.

People pay money to streamers to read a comment - to be in the background of the biggest adult game to ever exist streams and HF streams too - sounds a bit of fun if you ask me.

+ I'll work out the actual dimensions and whatnot to get a dope design done that can be turned into a wallpaper.
