Thread: If you Bought "Honest Cracking" Please Open

OK, this is quite embarrassing but here goes. I have been away for ages and I finally got a new laptop, so I'm back. I wanted to get back into cracking for some old clients but have found absolutely nothing I find online work, so I decided to go to my Google Drive and download my old stuff again.

On downloading it I found I had passworded it when I created the .rar. I can't remember the password and so I can't access my own stuff lol.

If you have a copy of this, could you please send it to my inbox.

Thanks, hope you're all well.

If i remember correctly, didn't you sell the rights of it? Why don't you try to get in contact with that new owner?
