Thread: [Need some advice in general and \[BRAND NAME REMOVED\] traffic.](#)

Hey guys! I had a question regarding [BRAND NAME REMOVED] traffic nowadays. I noticed that 1 account only really gets like 5-10 adds in the first day and if you keep the account alive/active by swiping on it, it generates like 5-10 more. Before, each account would give like 20+ even without swiping at all. I'm assuming that this is due to [BRAND NAME REMOVED] actively trying to enforce banning bot accounts through their backend changes that they have done recently.

I have been making do with manually messaging matches and swiping till I hit the like limit per day (so I can get the most value out of each number/account), but I don't really think this is very sustainable. Does anyone have any tips and tricks for me, or is able to drop me some knowledge? I would greatly appreciate it.

I know that in order to be very successful, I should have definitely put some of my eggs in a different basket, like twitter/instagram/reddit, however at the moment, I'm struggling and need a bit of a cash infusion as soon as possible. I only have around $50 to my name to use to attempt to make more money, and owe almost $500 dollars to people. It doesn't help that I'm developing a nasty lung problem/cough that I should probably get looked at, but haven't due to not having the money.

I see all these tales of experienced ewhorers making upwards of $250+ a day, and some even say over 1k a day is easy! I would love to eventually get to that point/number, but at the moment, I would be more than satisfied with making just $100 a day. If anyone could sort of mentor me in that process, I would be very grateful and would definitely return the favor once I get out of this hole I find myself in.

I agree that this is mostly my fault and responsibility. Even though I lost my job due to the virus, I should have been better with my finances, and I should have worked harder when I was in a more comfortable position so that I wouldn't have been pushed to this point. However, I am doing my best now (better late than never), and I hope that someone could recognize that, think back to a time when they were in my shoes, and throw me a lifeline.

My best advice to you.

Forget about [BRAND NAME REMOVED]. If you ask me it overrated.

I make at least $200 a day if I'm a little active. And if i dedicate a lot of time into eWhoring I can easily pull in $1000 a day. Without using [BRAND NAME REMOVED].

Find new ways of getting traffic. Think big mate.

Yeah, I do understand that people get great traffic from other sources as well. However, not many are willing to just give away goldmines, and of course, they shouldn't. After all, if they do, they may very quickly get saturated, unless the platform is huge like Instagram and Twitter. If you could teach me how to search for new ways of traffic, that would be cool, and I would definitely keep it in mind.

However, like I stated, the luxury of time is not really on my side atm where I can be researching or grow a social media page. I only have a bit over a week to pay back these people (I would never scam, and don't want to break the terms of the lending period). This is why I feel that [BRAND NAME REMOVED] is probably my best bet for now. LMK if you have any insights regarding this.

Anyone got any bones to throw at me?
