Thread: Heart attack in a request..

Chevy - October 20, 2020, 4:01 am

EDIT: THE USER WAS NOT OMNI.

I REPEAT, THE AFOREMENTIONED USER WAS NOT OMNI.

UNIQUE DISCORD ID : 766436464908435498

PLEASE BEWARE !!

I just had one of the biggest scares of my life, and I owe it all to Omniscient.

I received a friend request on Discord from "OMNISCIENT" .. of course, as usual, I was severely skeptical at first. Even sent my first message as "Very, very skeptical at the moment."

He replies with 'not skeptical but important' and I just about pooped myself, legitimately.

Then he brings up the topic of my IP is matching 6 other users.. tells me to give him one good reason why he shouldn't close my account.. to my surprise I quickly disagreed and rebuttaled that the explanation had to have been from my multiple geographical moves over the past year. None of the aliases he sent to me were familiar or recognizable. I also suggested that I could give a precise geographical location of where I was living when I created this account - down to the coordinates.

After hitting my inhaler 7 times, a breathing treatment and a few more words between the two of us, we agreed that I was Discord verified and I was allowed to keep my account.

So, with that being said, THANK YOU OMNI FOR GIVING MY DAY (AND HEART) A JUMPSTART!

I LOVE YOU.
Here's a cigar.

Must have been a very very funny moments after all this had happened, and a very nerve wracking moment when you were in it xD

Yes, after the fact it was something to look back and laugh on, but during was a total trainwreck.

I can honestly say I never want to do that again.
I'd prefer to have a shot of whiskey with the man.

Why wouldn't he just private message you on here? Seems strange man

Your skepticism surpasses you just as mine did

Another member told me the other day that my scan says my IP is matching with 1 other member

It's possible because I registered with a VPN and always use it xD

Yeah, I explained to him that I've moved several times since I created this account. Which would easily explain the IP changes and matches, however it wouldn't explain why my IP would match those users.

However, no ban evading of any kind has been attempted with my account nor will it ever.

And they weren't lying either, lol.

Ahhhh, well, it would have been a heart attack for nothing then.

No, no personal information was exchanged in any form or fashion.

What's his discord Unique ID, and do you have any mutual HF users with him or mutual HF related servers?

The Discord account that added him is not Omni; it's an imposter/troll.

That's why it's important to post Unique IDs for such things to be able to cross-check in the future

You enable "developer mode" on discord, then you right click the username of the user and click "Copy ID"

Either this, or write a \ behind the member's tag. Latter workswithout "developer mode" enabled.

Example below.

PHP Code

<?php

\@xHeaven#2143

This only shows their Discord TAG, not their individual unique ID.

nah if you hit enter it will convert the msg to his unique ID in the format of

Code <@UID>

Works with most things on discord tbf, adding a backslash "\" to things will show you its ID or change how its shown.

For example, if you do it on a default emoji, it changes how it looks -
