Why Join Us?:

Real Forums launched a few days ago and already have a decent amount of activity daily visitors, contributors, both friendly and dedicated members and staff who are willing to help with whatever you need. The staff team are willing to drop everything to make sure the user is satisfied with what he/she is requesting help with.

Both admins are dedicated to the forum and have experience when it comes to MyBB, we have a decent amount of money to keep the site updated with the best hosting, security and features. We promise to never give up, sell or merge on the forum. Your time and effort will not be wasted, so we would appreciate it if you give us a chance, you won't regret it.

We are looking for new staff members so hit us up! ?

Features on the site:

- Custom Theme
- Custom Awards
- Purchasable Upgrades
- Groups
- Security
- Forum Currency (Credits)
- Betting System
- Great plugins
- Dedicated staff members
- Friendly community

What will Real Forums bring in the future?:

Since we are new, we are trying our best to advertise and spread the word about RF. We will host future giveaways and competitions so you guys can be able to pick yourself up an upgrade, award or even PayPal money.

Custom theme? Seen this theme around 100 forums

Custom awards? Seen the same awards used on multiple forums

Purchaseable upgrades on like 1-2 day of release?

What type of security do you mean? I can just see normal MYBB security which isn't the best.

It even says 'UserHaven' still, man cmon you are just ripping a shit ton of things and then hope for people to buy upgrades...

I was trying to buy the domain name from someone selling it very recently. You must have been the lucky bidder. I hope you get good traffic from the people that used to visit the old RF and that you succeed in this forum project. I like your theme, and MyBB is great forum software. I definitely like that you don't have a lot of forum categories.

One thing I'd remove for right now is the upgrade page because you shouldn't be trying to monetize a project so early in the making.

Thank you, I will remove it for now first time running one so I just figured upgrades are always open from the start never thought about that

I have a few questions

1. Did Noah/Norkoy or Skryptec design your theme?
2. Why are you using the old RealForums logo if you're not the original owner? (Unless, you are?)
3. Why is your theme purple with a blue logo?
4. Why do you need staff for a NEW community?
5. Why the domain RealForums? (It's been used nearly 5 times now, even within the last year it was used.)
6. What forum or forum(s) have you owned/ran in the past?

 1. I bought the theme from another user, but I'd assume it was Noa who created it first
 2. new logo is being made so its just a placeholder until said artist is done
 3. purple? mind showing me? as it should be blue (could be cache)
 4. I'm not hiring instantly but id like for users to apply so later on I may view and possibly hire
 5. was on sale and looked neat, just seen how much its been used but too late to go back now
 6. used to manage awesomeforums (not own) and moderated diverseforums back when so now Im starting my own that I can fully control

This Forum has a nice Theme, Userbars, and setup overall; but lacks activity from the Administrators, which is a bit of an issue when building a Community.

Looking forward to seeing more, I have registered and will check in from time to time.

thank you as we grow I will hire more staff
I don't know much about forums so anything helps!

You sure look like you could use some help getting activity, fixing the bugs you have etc.
Hit me up bud, I'll see what I can do for ya :)

Oh and btw, I really love the theme and simplicity of the forum. Best wishes!

Used to love RF back in the day was a great community to be apart of and it's a shame a lot of communities died. I joined many forums from HF that I loved been involved in but times go.

I think I was on the old real forums back when I had either Historicforums up or maybe CreativeGaming? Not sure but it looks smooth, granted I have seen that design/theme quite a bit or ones VERY similar. Still looks good, as someone who has created 3 forums I'll tell you it was very hard to get any of them really going, minus ForumJunkies and that is only because I started it in like 2012 or maybe earlier when Forums were kinda new and fresh.

Good luck with your site though, just know it is going to be hard as fuck in 2021, but just work at it while you enjoy it and once you stop enjoying it, might as well quit cause it will go downhill fast.

I started awesome and diverse those grew fast back then but yeah especially with my work schedule its hella hard

I do appreciate the kind words though! maybe one day it will take off ??

How's it going? Is this still an active project you're working on?

Would love to hear your plan on getting new users/members over to it, any strategy on advertising across the WWW? :)
