I'm interested in this since I saw StrongMinds thread shut down and wanted to ask questions about his.

Does this program run in linux?

What is the resource footprint to run it?

Skoopy - October 27, 2020, 12:04 am

Hi I have received a vouch copy. Here is my honest review.

It's great for the price. I tried out mostly every feature except the bit sending. I had a bit of problems with the live viewer since there isn't an option to select how many viewers, but it has the amount of threads/proxies you can use. I talked with him and he said he will make it easier. Good proxies are recommended for twitch but I recommend this program! I'll probably be subscribing for my twitch.

Yes it works with linux.

Awesome, wanting to run this in a VPS so linux is better. Assuming this uses a typical threading process to do its job. How many cores and ram would you recommend for a minimum spec requirement? dual or quad core? 2gb? 4gb?

Also guessing we need to procure our own proxies to get this to work?

Depends what you're using it for and what you want to obtain but I would always suggest 4gb ram by default, yes you need your own proxies but I also sell proxies.. if you need faster support add my discord from the thread.

I see your guys finally, after years, updated your bot. As well as taking down the original site. And now, you need to provide your own proxies when you had it provide for you prior.

I used their previous version a ton and it delivered as advertised. I wondered why my license suddenly ended as well as the old Release being defunct now as it contacts the old site to authenticate. Guess I found my answer.

That's rough man. Appreciated the info in the other thread as well as this one. Would wish the seller would update on information as I still have not heard back from them on discord.

I don't mind having to invest in my own proxies, but the lack of communication makes me wary especially since I wanted to buy the lifetime. But to know that if the servers go down then I don't have access is also very... disconcerting...

Seems sadly too good to be true

I stated you need proxies in the post also this is misleading as I have never had a website ever + nothing has ever went down.

You're talking about someone else.

Yes and I've been waiting on a reply from you on discord for close to 2 weeks now. You said you had proxies. But the only thing you seem to have is a lack of good customer service skills for business. Also I never once mentioned a website in my post. The other person did. The fact you cannot read or distinguish the conversation going on between two posts shows another very disconcerting trend here coupled with the fact that instead of apologizing for making a potential customer wait 2 weeks for a reply you look at attack one customer over someone elses review.

You can take my request for a vouch copy and shove it up your tailpipe with your crappy attitude.

Frankly your total social inadequacies aside. I would say to anyone looking here.

BUYER BEWARE THERE ARE 3 DIFFERENT SELLERS ALL SELLING SIMILAR LOOKING SOFTWARE OFFERING THE SAME THING. AT THIS POINT THIS IS PROBABLY A COPY OR HE BOUGHT IT OFF THE ORIGINAL AND IS RESELLING SO IT MAY NOT EVER LIVE UP TO EXPECTATIONS.

I wish you luck in your endeavours sir.

Why are so you angry?

I don't dedicate my life to my Twitch bot sales as I am a grown man with a family and a job.

The 3 different sellers on this website are selling well.. the same thing? So obviously it will look the same.

Go squeeze your pillow and take some deep breathes.

You sent me 2 messages via discord, I have hundreds of people message me for free shit daily so you just dissapeared into the abyss.

No need to trash my post because you didn't get a vouch copy.
