Thread: Best Ip loggers/grabbers for doxing

10tick - October 23, 2020, 4:36 pm

I am trying to get into doxing and Ip loggers, snatchers and grabbers seem to be useful but I am yet to find a reliable link based solution.

Any and all recommendations appreciated.

Make your own website. It shouldn't take more than an hour.

Even less than an hour.

Here is a git repository of a simple PHP IP Logger : <https://github.com/CybrDev/IP-Logger>

Just create your domain and hosting and you'll have your own IP Logger =]

You can just make it very simple with canary tools, Google the exact url

You can send image to urls and will provide all their info.

Highly recommend canary tools, the best around and free for just making a canary.

If you're getting into doxing/private investigations.

IP Grabbers are usually a last resort if nothing else is working.

Interesting take on this. Makes sense to me though - you most likely would have to get into direct contact with the person .. i.e. a discord message or email for them to click the link.
