For sure. Otherwise I can't sell it.

If you prefer, you can buy the whole pack from edbitss for 2k and more.

I'm selling it for 700$ since I don't use it, giving full support and hosting too.

Your choice :)

So to be clear to potential buyers this version is a copy of the panel files etc and the original 1x build or a cracked version with builder which you made from the original build? In either case there will be no support or updates from the author of this bot.

In either case there will be no support or updates from the author of this bot. I can always ask the seller a new build/update since I'm the owner of my license. Of course new build is not free (as you can see on original thread of Edbitss). That's the difference between selling and re-selling. What I do is to give my license and all the plugins I have since I don't use Diamond (and botnet in general) anymore.
And no, it's not a cracked version.

I suppose if you wish to save the $600 which you'd pay the author for the version from him with lifetime support & updates, and take the risk of trusting you then that's up to you. I'm not quite sure someone would be stupid enough to do this. If you're going to pay $700 already, then the extra $600 for the security of payment, support & updates is a must!

Nobody is forcing you to buy from me. Indeed buy from author and spend your 2k if you have them :)
