Thread: Phishing website

mastermindLol - October 29, 2020, 5:59 am

Need someone to make me a phishing website.

Just a login page, must obviously save logins for me, need someone to design it as well so would be better if one person did both man... these requires just a basic skill-set of web development. One hint ... there are tools out there downloading a "website" to your machine including html and css. Go ahead and use something like that if you really want to... Good luck finding a BlackHat able to help you.

Contact via discord only: mastermind#7536

It will not take long to do it at all... Use <http://www.httrack.com/> download the site and create 2 php-files handling the login requests.
