Thread: Needing people to test new direct download site - RAT download testing

So the subject is what I'm looking for and I think this is allowed in this section since I need people with RAT's to test it out.

I'm working on a direct download site that I can jump around IP's/domain's whenever it's blacklisted by virustotal and what not so it's a pretty simple upload site. You can also check download hits based on the download link or upload id.

So anyway I need someone with some RAT's that want to try and upload their stub or whatever via http download. DM me and I can send you the info and test it out.

Also, NO I'm not scanning whatever is uploaded or sharing it with anyone outside of what you use the download link for.

Hope this works out fine. Not every one will be interested in sharing their stub to someone they don't know his motive.
