Cracking Section on HF

i've seen a lot of categories which are good, and the fact that we even have a marketplace is good, but i think if we would get a cracking(cracking not as meaning game cracks or any other software type cracks, but as in accounts cracking and things like setting up tools like: openbullet and so on.) section there would be more benefits, i am gonna list just a couple now but i am sure there tons more. I hope you will like my idea and support it, maybe one day we could get it to the admins and maybe make an idea into truth!

Possible Benefits

- Getting A wider range of members and including aswell crackers and beginner crackers.
- Giving a new opportunity to the market to have aswell a wider range of products selling e.g(ComboLists, Configs, Tutorials on Cracking& Much more...)
- The "Cracking" Would include more members into groups and even stimulate the new forming of HF crews giving not only more members as previously stated but aswell more cashflow to the community and the site itself.

Possible Problems

- Leechers Might become a thing due to the expected massive contribution of the community towards the new sections.
- (not 100% sure of this one) - Legal Problems with the "Cracking Situation".

These where all of my ideas for this new possible section lmk what you think about it under this thread, i will be pleased to hear your opinions about this idea.

I did miss the admin's response, My Bad. Tho i think i've listed more reasons on why this should be a thing.

Edit: OP from tid:6119663 was specifying "Game Cracks", instead i am generally speaking about cracking as a topic.
