Hello my friends..

so i know how good sex sells...

but how blackhat is ewhoring?

i mean first you steal pictures of a girl, then you pretend to be her and u show everyone her nudes which u stole.

isnt that blackhat af?

As far as we know the police and any other cyber crime related forces have other stuff to work on besides somebody selling nudes.

The amount of other blackhat stuff going on is too much for them to bother about this

It's considered immoral and illegal, but I don't think it's a real offence.

Then just don't sell anything to germans.

but thats what i always asking myself:

if some dude in america reports me to the police or whatever and i live in germany... they only do something if it really is something threatening, or?

SIM-2327840 - November 7, 2020, 1:26 pm

Definetly illegal, but rarely someone gets in trouble for doing it. I would suggest you to use it just to make a capital to support another project.

Use a VPN a d that's it.

If you want to do it legally, partner with a real girl who'll allow you to use her co tent

No... you not SHOW to everyone her nudes, actually you sell her nudes. Only the people who pay you will see her pictures/videos.

If ewhoring is done as you wrote above then it is not legal, but it can be done in a legal way if you make a partnership with a real girl model. Then your activity is called business and after you have a business you must to pay taxes for your income, now you are legal.

it is illegal but police has more important things than this Lol I don't think anyone is ewhoring in China, nearly all big websites and social medias are blocked over there.

the police aren't going to care (in most cases) but depending on what you do you can get into trouble, not to mention the fact that you're going to be mentally affected by ewhoring

MissKittyTV - December 20, 2020, 11:34 am

I think its more gay than blackhat, making a dude cum for a payment ?

"Mentally affected" - If you are talking about dude's d pics and u get "mentally affected" then think, we are watching dicks all the time. Whenever we go to toilet or shower, whenever we have sex or whenever we watch porn there are dicks but we don't feel gayish when we are doing those activities. Then why would you feel gayish when ewhorin ?

keklor - December 25, 2020, 6:58 pm

I've been doing it for years, a bunch of different methods, and I've never gotten in trouble if anecdotes mean anything.

As the other guy said, it's more gay than anything lol.

In order for a dude to report a catfish to the police, ignoring whether if they would pursue or not, he would need to say "hey I paid this girl online for nudes, turned out she wasn't real". Which is kind of engaging in prostitution.
