Thread: Download contents from online forum

Assuming that I am member of a forum, having made some posts, sent a few personal messages etc.

Is there any tool that I can use to save all of this online content in my pc so I can keep something like a backup file?

"Assuming" that you're an admin of the site you can do a sql dump. Assuming that it's a MyBB forum you can use the Archive (Lite) mode of the site and put a crawler bot on it and let it download everything.

Not really, every forum works differently. Ask them if they have a data export feature.
