Thread: Is Kik ewhoring dead?

Xoek - November 9, 2020, 11:43 am

Been on a break from ewhoring since before covid started, tried to get back into it earlier this year but I guess it was bad timing because it was during the start of covid when everyone was losing their jobs.

My question is, Is Kik ewhoring still profitable and worth doing? Is ewhoring in general still worth doing or is it being cracked down on more lately?

$70 in 5 hours on kik, after over a year break. its not dead

Nothing ever fully dies, unless acourse it's closed down. Heck that's why chat rooms are still used.

Although kik won't give you as high quality of traffic as you probably want for easy sales though.

Yeah, I usually struggled getting sales on Kik a few years ago due to everyone just wanting freebies or pretending to have money when they don't. but I would make my prices outrageously high ? I was happy with the $1000/month I was making compared to $1000/week I saw other people making. But now I wanna branch out to other platforms but not really sure where to start, especially snapchat ewhoring.

Is it still profitable as more than just a side hustle? Are people still making alot or is it mainly just a few hundred bucks a week ?— Honestly wouldn't mind getting back into it but I'm struggling to find the motivation.

I wouldn't say it's dead, but there are definitely better alternatives out there - Snapchat being a good one.

Depends on your kik username and methods

What you mean is Kik dead? It just a messenger. Some of my traffic even asking do i have WhatsApp or telegram. Some older dudes really hate Snapchat its too complicated for them so you better have acc on each of these apps and use the one your traffic prefer. Otherwise, you might lose money just because somebody doesn't use Kik/Snapchat.

Kik is definitely still good for making money if you know how to use it. Just make sure you have a modded kik that can send fake live pics.

its definitely still easy to make money with kik

I use BlueStacks emulator with Lynx Remix which is the modded Kik I use. I think you can get it for iPhone but you'd have to jailbreak your phone first.
