i need a phishing website made that will look like a real website of my choice and will send credentials and automatically log me into the website and also a different website showing up after someone logged in with 2FA, also need the 2FA to automatically be typed in on the real website so I am fully logged in.

If you understand and can do this my telegram is: @johndoeloll

I have coded the first part before for personal use but 2FA bypass is not possible as it uses a different key each time.

it may not be possible for 2FA but it may.... i mean it will little diff cause that phishing website will not have it and there gonna be like hmmm weird. You will get the password for SURE, but 2FA will random the password so you will truly will not be able to gain accss, without getting access to pc its self. Website wont help
