The Customer does not speak best english so i'm posting this for him

Customers HF convo with Scammer

https://pdfhost.io/v/CUNIKsf1g_HackForumsConvo178411_1pdf.pdf

When i messaged the Scammer he blocked me on HF

BEWARE

slesh77 - November 18, 2020, 9:11 am

this person contacted me after i had signed a contract formlink.

he told me I had to send the bitcoin credit to the number he gave me.

we agreed, for 80 $ for 15 days and if I didn't pay my bill within 15 days,mlink would block me.

then Ren and Stimpy contacted me who were very kind and I realized that this person scammed me.

It angers me that there are shitty people like these in 2020, and I hope there won't be any more.

I see the site very nice and full of good things, but if we report these scammers, we would have a cleaner and more common site for everyone.

I have few posts here at the forum, but I am a veteran on the world of hacking, knowing lots of brave people, I hope to find lots of them here too.

Sorry for the outburst and my bad English, but I help with the translator.

Wow. What a fucking dick. I would not do any business with that guy, he obviously has no idea how to conduct himself professionally. I feel bad for the buyer, he handled that shit with grace. But the seller is an obvious scam artist. Luckily, the buyer was smart enough to keep screenshots.

And you pay him almost 90$. Damn bro. That's not a very very smart move. It's irrational. I hope you get something out of it, but I think you lost the $. Take care next time.

Nico - November 18, 2020, 9:19 am

Of course he blocked you after he got caught up, what a dick.

Yea it sucks for the customer, but I spoke with the customer and when he is ready I will give him a discount, because of his luck with a shitty scammer!

Yep! But looks like he has no fucks to give. He's on the index now.

slesh77 - November 18, 2020, 9:33 am

thank you for your solidarity,

I know, I was foolish to send the money like this. took me suddenly, immediately having entered into the contract. so being recently here and not yet having the knowledge of serious people, I hit this scammer. filtering and slowly I was convinced that I was able to find serious and respectful people and in the end I am happy because I was not so much wrong, given your solidarity.

let's say that in the bad, in the end I also found good people

It's annoying when people don't do their due diligence and things like this happens, but it's even more annoying when people scam. The fact that he told you one thing, then told you a completely different thing right after receiving the money just set me off. When people don't do their due diligence, mistakes happen, I get it. When people scam, they're just pieces of shit. There's no excuse for that. Sorry for your loss!

This guy got rep fucked. I don't think he'll be doing business here any time soon, at least not on that account.

SIM-4574945 - November 18, 2020, 9:47 am

I think that the best option is always using a trustworthy middle-man before sending money to anyone who don't know or seeing if their products are vouched by trusted members.

And yes, I'm agree, people must to do their due diligence before starting a deal, but sometime you think you're dealing with a genuine seller and you get scammed.

I hope that you can get something out of it and you'll find a solution. Next time take care.

slesh77 - November 18, 2020, 9:56 am

thanks Blogger.

This person was smart right away, because as soon as I signed the contract, I sent the message to the post, immediately as soon as he saw the message of the post that I was interested in mlnk, he contacted me and told me all that bullshit.

Perhaps better, to avoid showing when one has intentions to buy that they don't write it publicly,

I'm interested etc etc, maybe a private post or a private chat, I don't know. it's just a tip, to avoid these scammers.

People be really trying to make a career out of scamming. When you honestly can make legit money off the time they waste scamming.

Blogger - November 18, 2020, 10:28 am

This guy is still ACTIVELY trying to make deals on HF. I just had a user PM me asking me why I negged QueenC because he's trying to do a deal with him right now. BEWARE.

WOW! Crazy!

Blogger - November 18, 2020, 10:37 am

Unfortunately, I didn't get to the PM in time and the deal was done. Buyer said it's only $50 BTC and he'll see how it plays out.

He had sent a partial payment back so I was lucky to get back $34, if I was a bit more patient I definitely wouldn't be in this situation.

looks like the user is going on a buying spree.
