this is a scammer he scammed me with 200 gmails
he sent the money 105 btc$ then I sent him the 200 gmail and after 1 min he refunded the 105$ when I asked him if he refunded the 105$ he deleted the chat in telegram and sent a smily face

SIM-4880082 - November 20, 2020, 7:52 am

he never sent me the file, and i never sent him btc.

you upload screenshots of the chat between you two as well as proof that you were paid and it was refunded?

btc.Same goes for you. If you have proof you did not receive anything or pay BTC, you should upload that here to help your case.

guys he is the scammer he deleted the conversation in telegram and look at his reviews he has like -33 omg noob

SIM-4880082 - November 20, 2020, 7:58 am

if he gives a proof that he have sent and i paid, he wins

i said he didn't sent file and i never paid.

noobWell, that doesn't help your cause very much.

Russian bear - November 20, 2020, 8:04 am i can send you my btc activity and see if he sent me the 105$

SIM-4880082 - November 20, 2020, 8:08 am

he never sent me files.

i never paid him

man quit lying please I sent you the files and because I'm noob i didn't wait for the confirmation of the blockchain and when I sent you the file you recovered the money and I asked you did you recover the money and you sent a smily face you are bad at both scamming and lying

i don't care about the money I have a good will in here

I want HF community to be careful

If it helps, he also tried to purchase my EA (Bot). Sent me BTC and immediately wanted the Bot file, I immediately knew it was fishy.

As we have a procedure to activate the bot file, I told him it would take time for the process and linking it up with your registered forex broker. And as expected, when I checked my wallet - the TXID returned as invalid and the amount was deducted from my wallet. It was a false transaction.

What he tries to do is an exploit called 'Double spending' - not sure if my TXID would help or amount to anything. But reading up on it should help.

Regards, Wolf.

Upgraded with a picture to my post.

And if anyone wishes to read how the exploit works.

This guy contacted me regarding my steam service, he sent me the btc to buy a game and refunded it in less than 30 minutes.

Thankfully I didn't proceed with his order quickly.
Such a kid

You're not alone in this. I thought double-spending was resolved quite some time ago.

Just happened to me a few hours back, so apparently, it is still around.

Tee Plow - November 20, 2020, 12:03 pm

the user is a multi and he uses double spend

SIM-4831178 - November 20, 2020, 6:21 pm

People still have double spend problems in 2020, that's awesome. What about use your brain and do some research before using a currency?

I think double spending will always be a thing, due to the nature of Replace By Fee (RBF) transactions. It's still possible to do it when a transaction isn't opted in for RBF, but much easier and cheaper to do if it's opted in.
