

Forum:Hack Forums

Thread: Are there any shady reasons people might be liking a Facebook page

The Pact - November 22, 2020, 11:18 pm

I have not been working on promoting some products online that I have even though I still continue to make a small bit of passive income from selling some products I put online long ago.

I haven't really been promoting these products although I still have links on various social media platforms about the products which may be why a small number of people still buy products each month with me doing nothing.

But I keep getting Facebook likes on the Facebook page associated with it all the time and the Facebook page even has a slightly different name from what's on the products now. It would be nice to think it's just people who did really like my creative content but I just wonder if there are some other shady reasons why people might be liking my page which I don't really promote.

2xTheTap115 - November 23, 2020, 1:29 am

(Nov 23, 2020 12:18 AM)The Pact Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) I have not been working on promoting some products online that I have even though I still continue to make a small bit of passive income from selling some products I put online long ago.

I haven't really been promoting these products although I still have links on various social media platforms about the products which may be why a small number of people still buy products each month with me doing nothing.

But I keep getting Facebook likes on the Facebook page associated with it all the time and the Facebook page even has a slightly different name from what's on the products now. It would be nice to think it's just people who did really like my creative content but I just wonder if there are some other shady reasons why people might be liking my page which I don't really promote.

Sometimes no promotion is needed? If the products you sell online are of good quality and your customers are satisfied with your services, positive feedback will come to you regardless of whether you promote yourself or not?

The Pact - November 23, 2020, 1:52 am

Thank you very much. So maybe my Facebook likes are real. lol Maybe I'm not being self confident enough. I get suspicious every time I see 18 new likes and think I've done no work on this since last November. Wow literally a year. lol

Michael - November 23, 2020, 1:55 am

I have certain older pages too, and people sometimes still like them.

Not really sure why this happens, but I guess people associate with them self with the page thus liking them.

Neon™ - November 23, 2020, 1:58 am

No OP, people get recommended pages based on what they've previously liked and they continue liking the new pages as well. It can also be that the titles of your Facebook pages are common among a certain niche and that's why people can easily find them by using organic search. I highly doubt that it's anything shady.

The Pact - November 23, 2020, 2:04 am

I don't think the title of the page would fit any niche but maybe I put some keywords in that are helping people find it. I don't even remember if Facebook business pages have keywords. I made it in 2012.

I just wondered if people liked random pages to get something or other shady but it's nice if that's not true.

siddy357 - November 23, 2020, 2:07 am

(Nov 23, 2020 02:52 AM)The Pact Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Thank you very much. So maybe my Facebook likes are real. lol Maybe I'm not being self confident enough. I get suspicious every time I see 18 new likes and think I've done no work on this since last November. Wow literally a year. lol Unless it is promoted by a chic you don't have to think you did a bad job. Good thing that you have picked a great product which sells.

The Pact - November 24, 2020, 2:38 am

(Nov 23, 2020 03:07 AM)siddy357 Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Unless it is promoted by a chic you don't have to think you did a bad job. Good thing that you have picked a great product which sells. What do you mean promoted by a chic? lol?

siddy357 - November 24, 2020, 4:08 am

(Nov 24, 2020 03:38 AM)The Pact Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) What do you mean promoted by a chic? lol? I have seen some creeps liking or buying some pages adminned by a chic to get some attention so that's what i meant.

The Pact - November 24, 2020, 4:23 am

(Nov 24, 2020 05:08 AM)siddy357 Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) I have seen some creeps liking or buying some pages adminned by a chic to get some attention so that's what i meant. Well there is a picture of a pretty female model on the page and since 2012 I've had only a couple of idiots message me thinking the picture was of me but that's all only a couple of people doing that in 8 years. And plenty of female names liking the page not just male names but a lot of foreign names but then the stuff I put on social media for free to promote them was targeted at the whole world.

siddy357 - November 24, 2020, 4:24 am

(Nov 24, 2020 05:23 AM)The Pact Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Well there is a picture of a pretty female model on the page and since 2012 I've had only a couple of idiots message me thinking the picture was of me but that's all only a couple of people doing that in 8 years. And plenty of female names liking the page not just male names but a lot of foreign names but then the stuff I put on social media for free to promote them was targeted at the whole world. Does your product carter to the female demographic?

Mr. Atlas - November 24, 2020, 6:06 am interesting content, published regularly?

I know everyone is repeating this but it's true ^^ '
Or do something extraordinary that will go viral shakur123 - November 24, 2020, 8:19 am

If you dont mind me asking, what is the product??

Vibe - November 24, 2020, 8:40 am

Maybe it's just coming up when someone searches a keyword and they just click like. I'm not sure what bad thing they could hope to achieve by liking a page. Maybe they are hoping you like their page back or they are just trying to make their profile seem real and have interest related to whatever they are using the account for.

A + - November 24, 2020, 9:43 am

Some people might be wanting to advertise their product, and since your page is already targeted traffic they'll just do it there.

The Pact - November 24, 2020, 3:45 pm

(Nov 24, 2020 07:06 AM)Mr. Atlas Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) interesting content, published regularly?

I know everyone is repeating this but it's true ^^ '

Or do something extraordinary that will go viral

Nah I wasn't asking how to get more Facebook likes I was asking why I get them when I haven't been doing anything. Must be partially keywords but I wondered if there was any weird thing where doing Facebook likes on random pages had some benefit.

Mr. Atlas - November 24, 2020, 3:54 pm

(Nov 24, 2020 04:45 PM)The Pact Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Nah I wasn't asking how to get more Facebook likes I was asking why I get them when I haven't been doing anything. Must be partially keywords but I wondered if there was any weird thing where doing Facebook likes on random pages had some benefit.

if you have posted something on Facebook whether you like it or not it will be seen by people, so don't be surprised to see the interaction lmao

The Pact - November 24, 2020, 4:05 pm

(Nov 24, 2020 04:54 PM)Mr. Atlas Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) if you have posted something on Facebook whether you like it or not it will be seen by people, so don't be surprised to see the interaction lmao

Still not what I'm talking about. I'm talking about Facebook likes to an old business page where I haven't posted anything in one year.

Mr. Atlas - November 24, 2020, 4:15 pm

(Nov 24, 2020 05:05 PM)The Pact Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Still not what I'm talking about. I'm talking about Facebook likes to an old business page where I haven't posted anything in one year.

Yes but 1 year ago you posted things, they are still present on the site so viewed and sometimes recommend by facebook hahahahaahaha ?

Rezon ® - November 25, 2020, 2:18 am

Could be bots analysing the page

The Pact - November 25, 2020, 3:21 am

(Nov 25, 2020 03:18 AM)Rezon ® Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Could be bots analysing the page

Yeah I was wondering about stuff like that.