Thread: Want to hack bitcoin wallet I have a target

code47 - November 23, 2020, 12:41 am

Hey guys

After a long hard work I found out few potential targets
Who are miners or can you say bulk bitcoin sellers
Their holding is more than 100k bitcoins
I tried many ways to hack them but not successful
These people are very techie
Even a FUD macro exploit did nothing for me
I think they know all about this stuff
So I need a person who can hack their wallet
They are using Blockchain and ifhex wallet
I have their emails
They are using windows 10 machine
And few of them are using MacBook

The genius idea is to hack them is by using a word
/Pdf silent exploit

If you can help me to make a phishing email that looks legitimate to them that might be our best chance

Well you may try to infect their computer. Cracking a wallet is way to difficult in 2020.

Infecting their pc is possible but cracking into their wallets i think is the hardest part.

'Infecting them PC is possible'
- Yes it's a way.

But you need think 2 ways .

- Would they download?

- Would they open?

Well after they do congrats, the next goal is getting them private key's for wallet's that's may be hard part of BTC (their)

You need ask yourself ?

- Does they have they their keys?
- Why should they hold their key their (for wallet)?

This is hardest part of this.

But me way it's better cracking wallet's then infecting their PC,

1. You are not 100% sure if they open it.
2. You are not 100% sure if they have them keys their/

If you have a good amount of money then they will invest in some security to save their investments. Like wise it is to be thought that a person with high btc might have a key if not you are lucky.

In this case, your only hope would be to get employed and take it from there, or single out a specific higher up, and pour all of your effort and attention into compromising his/her security. What skill set do you have?
