What's one thing you're currently struggling with in your life at this point. Could be anything. Won't judge, just be honest.

Rezon ® - November 25, 2020, 2:43 am

What career path want to go down next, I'm getting bored in finance and need to switch to something a bit more tech.

Proof - November 25, 2020, 6:41 am

The dumb ass governor of my state closing everything.

Pawnhub - November 25, 2020, 7:14 am

Fathers been in the ICU in a coma for 3 weeks with sepsis took 2 days off work now unemployed since a family emergency isn't enough to request 2 days off.

Got a better paying job lined up but my mindset is so fucked up right now.

Can't handle this stress tbh and burning everything down along the way.

rohanganguly._ - November 25, 2020, 7:16 am

Not being able to find quality clients for my copywriting business :(

Goku - November 25, 2020, 7:18 am

There is a girl at work that I like. Her eyes are beautiful as topaz.

But idk, firstly it's at work... if I screw this up then work is gonna be hell...

Also, scared to be rejected :c

And the worst of them all. What if I don't like her after a while.

I truly hate myself for this.

Rmdy - November 25, 2020, 7:19 am

I currently started doing commission, taking request like answering quizzes, making their project, and other school related problems. Since pandemic, my parent's small food business isn't doing great so I started to take my own initiative to help them.

It is also the reason why I am here since I am currently searching for some ideas to work with.

Regards,
Rmdy

Yep you just gotta ride it out hopefully soon you'll get over the endless thoughts and emotions surrounding your break up and can look forward to something better and maybe a new girl!

Snapbytes - November 25, 2020, 7:43 am

Money. I can earn lots of money but I'm way too lazy to do anything. I just spend all my time sitting in front of my laptop reading manga, watching anime/movies, browsing this forum, looking for memes etc. I hate myself for being lazy.

I need to work on my money management skills

MarvinMalware - November 25, 2020, 8:10 am

Money, I got plenty of things going on in my head but money is the stem of a lot of my stressors. Covid has left me with nothing left in my savings, just holding onto my stocks for dear life.

flyingshark - November 25, 2020, 9:05 am

We can't still bring out the kids anywhere as still they were not allowed to go places outside the premises because of the pandemic.

We are missing our love ones who are far away on our place.

ViperCode - November 25, 2020, 9:28 pm

Once I got a job and moved to my cousins, my friends in my home town don't talk to me anymore and with the pandemic going on I feel more lonely than ever.

Psilocybinaut - November 25, 2020, 9:31 pm

I just quit my job the other day, so I'm trying to find a new job. I keep wanting to put it off and have some free time after working 60 hours a week for four months. I'm just trying to live but I gotta work :(

jecoy - November 25, 2020, 9:50 pm

I struggle in my internet connection, struggle in finding a great job, and struggle emotionally and spiritually.
