Thread: Favorite clothing line?

Psilocybinaut - November 28, 2020, 3:35 pm

Anyone have a favorite clothing line or favorite store they favor going to?

Follow any merch that you have to buy quick or all sells out?

I follow Gnarcotics and Team Sesh merch. Team Sesh always sells out within minutes.

I also like Rise as 1ne. They're not very popular but the hoodie and hat I have from them are super cool a
And the hoodie is pretty warm too.

My gf got me this Gnarcotic hoodie and beanie for some of my Christmas presents.

Definitely Polo, Nike, or Vans personally.

I'm also a big fan of watch brands

Best regards

???????

????????????? lets fu*k

ontopic: i pretty much wear anything i like. fuk this brand getto market.

I don't brag about the brands ya kno but I think the ones I support have cool stuff. I listen to Team Sesh music so I don't mind supporting the clothing line considering all Bones albums are free I don't think he actually sells them. They're both lines from artists and I support the artists I enjoy listening to.

But I'm definitely not buying any real designer, like LV or Gucci screw them

Massive fan of Nike. Love their lines of shoes and some of their clothes.

If I need be I'll get some Superdry stuff as they are really well made most of the time.
Here and there I'll get some off-brand shit for work since I don't want to spend too much on that stuff.

Nike shoes are really nice. I liked the skater Nike they had back in like 2013(they might still have them) I think they were called Nike SB or something. I've never heard of Superdry.

Superdry is more of a UK thing same with like the north face

Nike still does their Skateboarding side of merch but it's very cheap and tacky in my opinion sadly.
but I cant complain my first Nike shoes were some very old Nike SB'S.

Ehh, I mainly buy Vans or Adidas stuff. Pants don't matter to me, so I just search local basic stores and find whatever material I like the best and what fits the best.

I am not inclined to brands would be happy if the quality of the cloth and if it fits would pay the dollar amount and live with it. I never commit myself loyal to a single brand.

I myself buy clothes from the Polish clothing brand PROSTO (a brand closely related to the Polish hip-hop scene). Their clothes are of really good quality and worth the price?
