I always thought it was an activity for high society, and want to get into it. Has anyone here ever been horseback riding

I did it a couple of times. A lot more difficult than it looks.

When we are going to some picnic places there were always a horse back riding where we rent for couple of minutes :D

I never tried it before, what I tried was Carabao back riding.

Ye horses are cool, no I don't ride them. I have a pig tho lol. Usually people that own horses are well to do because you can't just have one horse and it could be around $1,000 in maintaining the horse in feed a year not to mention the pasture expenses in fencing.

hahaha. I fell too :D, so it is better to ride at the carabao's cart rather than it's back.

Yeah it's much easier to ride on a horse rather than the carabao haha

I will never ride to a carabao again :D

Try it out on a horse just let the owner guide you first so you will be safe :D

All sorts of people horseback ride, poor and rich. I've done it only once in the Tucson desert when I was younger. Was really cool just not my everyday thing.

I think it is expensive, I will better steal my neighbor's horse than it.

:(, I will tell them that I will return if I am satisfied riding the horse.

Lindros - November 30, 2020, 11:24 pm

Yeah, I used to do it when I was younger. Horses are awesome animals. They might be man's other "best friend".

2xTheTap115 - November 30, 2020, 11:37 pm

My sister has been riding horses for several years, but I have had the opportunity to try it only once in my life. And I must admit it's a pretty cool thing?

Harley Quinn - December 1, 2020, 1:08 am

I have done horse riding before. The thing with horse riding most the time is when you own your own horse you have to go and see it everyday, look after it etc and most working class people don't have time to do this :P.

Its certainly enjoyable though, albeit a nice learning curve. GL OP
