Thread: Are you more active on the forum cause of quarantine?

Net - December 3, 2020, 12:20 pm

The first time we were in quarantine was somewhere in March and I hella active then, got the Lounge head then. After quarantine lifted of course I started doing more real life stuff as well as off-forum projects. Now its quarantine again (this is the 4th week) and of course I am more active now. Checked my 28 day statistic and pretty much everything is in the green. My posts increased by 322,7% (So far 186 posts this last month).

Wondering if any of you lot are in the same situation as me.

Award goals are definitely a decent way to pass time during COVID-19 times.

Agree, I am aiming for the everyday ninja award next.

Blogger - December 3, 2020, 12:33 pm

Quarantine has made me more active but only because it brought more people on here. I would have been on here regardless.

Dopamine - December 3, 2020, 12:34 pm

Of course this increased my online activity

HEISENPUG - December 3, 2020, 12:45 pm

Basically, Ive been on more for sure

Rev - December 3, 2020, 12:48 pm

Nah, just cause I'm bored a lot tbh

Forensic - December 3, 2020, 1:04 pm

For sure. Gyms being shut really limited my routine

Yin Yang - December 3, 2020, 1:56 pm

Yea my states going into lockdown again so I'll probably be more active lol.

CokelsAwesome - December 3, 2020, 1:57 pm

Absolutely more active because of it. Usually, I'm working or helping out friends shrugs haha

Xphile - December 3, 2020, 1:58 pm

Recently came back to HF, I can't say it was directly because of COVID, but I think it might have been a factor.

I'm glad to be back though, there's fun to be had here.

GOSSIP GUY - December 3, 2020, 1:59 pm

I expected HF to have more. It seems like everyone on Discord these days?

I feel you my man we also about to be locked again here.

SIM-3343347 - December 3, 2020, 2:33 pm

well, the only think I have left to do is, go to gym & rest of day, programming...hf...

TobiTee - December 3, 2020, 2:51 pm

Defiantly more during quarantine + I'm now for the foreseeable future working from home.

That Hack Game one is literally crawling for me. Nailed the HUM one and the tutorials one down though.

but screw COVID all together.

Ivex - December 3, 2020, 3:59 pm

Most certainly! I was living the uni life to its full extent until March. Since then I've had almost no social life. So even though online communication can never match real life socialising, it has helped being active here for sure.

?ystem - December 3, 2020, 4:22 pm

Yeah, you could say I was more active when the whole quarantine business began. Mostly because a lot of my Monday through Friday business was reduced to having been done remotely via Zoom and leaving me ample time to browse the forums.

Zeus - December 3, 2020, 4:26 pm

Yes alot more but i always used it alot the past 2 years!

siddy357 - December 3, 2020, 6:26 pm

Quaratine definitely bought more users to the forum but the good old ones stay here regardless because we like the forum and friends over here.

Yanix - December 3, 2020, 8:13 pm

I am always active on the forum even when before the Covid thing comes.

Pawnhub - December 3, 2020, 8:37 pm

No there's no quarantine around here in Florida.

Same shit different day. We ain't locked away like animals in cages. Sadly most small businesses are ruined but that's what happens when you have a partison government.

sweatpants - December 3, 2020, 8:44 pm

I've only become more active on here because of my laptop that i bought. If it weren't for me getting 2 years backpay on my tax returns then I'd probably still be inactive, But I'm glad I came back when I did because there's been some people I've missed still around and posting. And I've made more friends this time around and got the opportunity to join groups

Black Whale - December 3, 2020, 8:54 pm

Yeah i definitely agree I'm very active this year and we have basically been in quarantine the whole year

A + - December 3, 2020, 9:15 pm

Yeah, I got the potato head when quarantine started. Wasn't as painful as I thought it would be.

MarvinMalware - December 3, 2020, 9:21 pm

The original lockdown sparked my return, I don't plan on going anywhere now though. :)

jecoylecroy - December 3, 2020, 9:51 pm

I am active in this forum not because of quarantine but because of its contents.

Apocryphon - December 4, 2020, 7:52 am

Not really. Back in March when the quarantine started I was mostly watching TV shows and then I started playing World of Warcraft again. Now I don't have much of a free time.

Demize - December 4, 2020, 7:54 am

I was wicked active during lockdown, now I pop in a few times a day but not nearly on the level I was

I played WoW as well, but to be honest I hate paying for subscription based games.

cybr - December 4, 2020, 8:49 am im active again because im a degenerate.

Cooligan - December 4, 2020, 8:56 am

Not necessarily no. I'm on average very active on HF, I just thoroughly enjoy my time spent here.

shakur123 - December 4, 2020, 9:14 am

Well at the beginning yes, but now i just love to do flips in convo hehehe. HF make increase my gambling addiction

Maybe I'm more inactive bcs I have more work to do and less for HF.

Just a private wotlk wow server my man. I'd never pay either.

DOOZIE - December 4, 2020, 1:58 pm

Quarantine has me pretty bored, HF popped up back in my head so here we are.

Psilocybinaut - December 4, 2020, 5:47 pm

I love HF, always have always will. I don't think my activity would vary if I wasn't in quarantine. I'm more of a homebody. I like my phone I like my computer I like my video games. I don't like parties and I don't like people outside my internet life.

2xTheTap115 - December 5, 2020, 3:35 am in fact, I have a similar situation. During the first wave of covid I was very active, then when the situation calmed down I had a few months' break

Now we are struggling with the second wave and the situation repeats strongly. However, now I plan to stay active even after everything is back to normal?
