Thread: Mayweather vs Logan Paul \(OFFICIAL\)

C am - December 6, 2020, 8:17 pm

So Logan Paul has a super exhibition fight scheduled with Mayweather on Feb 20, 2021.

WTF is it with this guy? Never had a professional fight in his life and he wants to jump straight into it with one of the most best defensive boxers in history with a record of 51-0??? There is no way in hell he truly believes he's going to win this. He's gotta be doing this strictly for the "clout" and money the fight will bring in.

What are yalls outlook on this?

Logan actually does have a professional record (0-1)

Floyd is definitely going to win this though lmaoo yeah, technically he is 0-1. I just didn't really consider KSI as "professional boxer". Neither of them really haha, but yeah you're right. but if he loses to someone who wasn't even a boxer idk what makes him confident against may weather lmao.

Cooligan - December 6, 2020, 8:25 pm

I feel like I'm confident enough in Floyd that if I had $1M to spare, I'd bet it lol.

I seriously still can't believe this fight is going to happen. Floyd 'Needs Money Again' Mayweather is one of the greatest of all time. Does he really need money that badly? Is he just trying to embarrass Logan? I hope it's the latter because seeing Jake knock out Robinson was both hilarious and depressing at the same time. Hilarious how Robinson was just flailing around in the ring, showing that boxing skills triumph over athleticism, but really depressing because Jake Paul just clowned Nate Robinson.

I can't wait until the details of his payout are out, because these hyped fights between actual boxers and Youtubers are unfortunately starting to become common. Apparently Jake Paul made out $10m+ from his PPV cut.

I see no world where Floyd will take a loss, but since this will be an exhibition match, it 'doesn't go on your record'. I won't go anywhere near the action for this fight, but I will enjoy it as a spectator. People forget it's boxing, and literally anything can happen.

Look at Tyson / Jones. So many people put money on Tyson, and while he did run circles around Jones that night, they scored it as a draw.

However, Floyd's ego and Paul's shit-talking will result in some funny hype leading up to the fight. It's been a while since Floyd stepped in the ring, and if anything, I hope this exhibition streak ends with Tyson v Floyd at some point. Tyson actually looked really strong in his Jones fight, and I can see a fight between the two happening. Especially if the PPV numbers from this exhib match is good.

Logan vs Mayweather was probably settled long before the Jake & Nate fight. Usually, I like these but this one is such a ridiculous mismatch it's barely worth watching.

Ahh, thanks for pointing that out. This fight popped up on my feed a few days ago and I was just so confused.

And same, I'm only watching it to see Logan Paul get embarrassed. Floyd's boxing IQ is incredible, so I hope he just has fun with this fight. It's been a while since he's been in the ring, so I'm watching for that as well. Floyd's a genius in the ring, so I'm excited to see if he's still got it.

Thoughts on Tyson/Mayweather? I know it might seem unlikely to some, but man I really think this fight might happen within the next one or two years. Tyson is looking good, and Mayweather can always use the money.

Floyd had that exhibition with that Japanese kickboxer not too long ago and that was probably a similar mismatch. Floyd really looks bad here, you can understand Logan taking the chance to fight Floyd & the payday but Floyd? He really could do better. He can just beat the hell out of Logan with ease.

Tyson & Mayweather never gonna happen man. Tyson is 220 and Mayweather is 160 at most. They are not even close to the same division. Tyson could literally murder him if he landed fully flush in the face.

Yeah I saw that Tenshin fight too. Just rewatched it since I didn't realize it was just two years ago.

Really hope it's similar, and Floyd gets angry enough to get a 1RKO on Paul.

edit: Tenshin was supposed to be a top prospect kickboxer, so yeah, the mismatch will probably be even worse.

But yeah, Floyd has done multiple hundred-million+ PPVs. This is just a bad look for Floyd, he has everything to lose and so little to actually gain.

Hahaha yeah, I forgot that Tyson and Floyd were in two different weight classes. Wasn't even thinking about weight. Absolute dream match up though.

For sure? he'll just say it was easy money. 30-50 million to beat up a youtuber and twist it in that way. I'd love to see Floyd beat up by Tyson but yeah never gonna happen. Knowing their history, Tyson's going for blood. Tyson smoked weed before his fight with Jones, and he still looked strong. Not as aggressive, but definitely still has that KO power behind those hands.

Being punch drunk sucks, definitely. I see it so often with these older fighters who have been hit hard over their career and it's kinda depressing seeing their slurred speech and brain deteriorate. I just hope it's a good fight.

So true. Too many of the greats have declined and fallen from grace due to being in the ring for too long. It's such a punishing sport that these reappearances from these older, retired fighters are, to me, unnecessary and definitely dangerous.

He's the older brother of the kid who beat Nate Robinson. They're both Youtubers who have a young audience (preteens), and they just talk shit to anyone who would fight them to create hype and get money.

He was in the spotlight a few years ago for vlogging at a Japanese suicide garden, and laughing about it, etc.

Pretty trashy people, but they sure can generate hype and make money.

I agree on the money part of it. After Floyd and McGregors fight (NOT THAT LONG AGO) Floyd walked away with a $280m check while McGregor walked away with $130m. Floyd could've taken his already earned money + that check and would never have to fight anyone again and live pretty nice just off that alone. He does not NEED any money but is taking dumbass fights like this and I'm sure he's going to just play around with Logan to make the fight longer rather than just go in there and KO him off the rip and everybody be pissed they paid $50 for a 1 round fight or something. But I do agree, it's going to be interesting watching these two fight hahaha.

It's crazy how ridiculous the fight is! Like if you didnt know who they were and just looked at their info (minus their fight records) you'd think Logan would have it in the bag. He's got 50 lbs on mayweather, a 18 year age difference, and 6" reach on mayweather, and Mayweather STILL going to whoop that ass

Yup. But it's Mayweather. He's notoriously bad at managing his money, and I wouldn't be surprised if he's close to reaching the end of his McGregor payday.

EDIT: just quickly looked it up. Mayweather reportedly spends $75m a year. His McGregor fight paid him $280m 3 years ago. It's looking like he's in need of a payday LOL.

For the fight, I'm guessing that Mayweather MAYBE lets Paul get a few rounds in (if he's in a good/playful mood), and then dismantles him like he did with McGregor. However, I can also see Mayweather just embarrassing Paul in the first round or second round if he's mad, just playing around with him, and a KO early on. He doesn't care about the people that would be pissed at a 1RKO, as long as they bought the PPV, he's getting his money.

Brock Obama - December 7, 2020, 4:38 pm

I'm absolutely convinced Mayweather will win, it won't last 4 rounds and Logan will barely even manage to hit him.

However: with Logan being 20 years younger, a significant amount heavier and longer - it's not completely impossible he catches him. His punches will have more power than Mayweather, I just very much doubt he will even be able to connect properly once. If he did, he could possibly get a lucky KO. The chances of it happening are very slim.

Definitely clout and money driven.

I think mayweather only took the fight because he knows there's 0 chance he can lose.

I'd probably still order the fight just to watch it.

I have to agree with you
Today, the sports galas themselves are of greater value than the athletes fighting in the ring

So I've just seen the pricing for this and it is equally ridiculous as the mismatch.

$24.99, then after 1 million PPV's are sold that goes to $39.99 after December 31st goes to $59.99
and from February it goes to $69.99

There are no promoters. They're promoting it themselves and using an app for all purchases. It's literally the most transparent money making grab lmao. I'll stream it for free obviously.

Mayweather is definitely going to win unless this is some big gambling scheme and he's willing to lose his perfect record, which is very very unlikely.

Robinson. They're both Youtubers who have a young audience (preteens), and they just talk shit to anyone who would fight them to create hype and get money.

He was in the spotlight a few years ago for vlogging at a Japanese suicide garden, and laughing about it, etc.

Pretty trashy people, but they sure can generate hype and make money.
Yeah he deserves to have his bell rung, more than once.

Easy win for Floyd improves his record to 51-0.

Logan on the other hand doesn't care about his record and will care about his payout though, already has a destroyed reputation via the suicide forest video back in 2016-2017 I'm positive. Maverick brand is just pure cancer

Everyone's thoughts on KSI's decision with this if anyone follows him?
I'm actually excited if it ever happens; 'KSI vs Jake Paul'

They are just trying to get paid. Kid started on Vine and it's crazy he's now a millionaire.

d3 ? - December 8, 2020, 8:17 pm

it was leaked that mayweather gets $5M upfront and 50% of all sales logan gets 200k upfront and 5% all sales

Imaooo

It would be much more interesting if Mayweather would face Pacman instead of Logan but all he knows is to avoid Pacquiao.

Haha I didn't know that logan paul was a fighter like that ? he should go back to his Pokemon cards lol
