Thread: Bitcoin finally breaks out!

Almonds - December 16, 2020, 6:21 am

This marks the beginning of a bull market for a short term.

Hold on, and enjoy the ride. ?

Framework - December 16, 2020, 6:28 am

Exciting news!

Next goal: hold until it hits $30.000 ?

When do you think that will be

Almonds - December 16, 2020, 3:12 pm

Up to $21,300!

Looking like some good gains today. ?

Sativa - December 16, 2020, 3:58 pm

Shit this reminds me of the time 2 years ago when I was holding a lot of bitcoins for a new car after it hit ATH... well I lost quite a lot of money but I guess lesson learned

I don't expect it to be this year but in my opinion, it will definitely reach a new ATH in the next 2 years.

We are experiencing a new ATH as we speak right now this very second?

Yes, but right now it won't keep going up to $30.000. It will drop sooner or later, and when that happens, I can't really predict if it's going to get back up within days or months.

But one thing I'm sure of - 2021 or 2022 is going to be the year it's going to hit $30.000.

I could be this year too, who knows, I'm just making a prediction based on what I've seen it doing this whole year.

Either way, it's definitely too early to cash-out, as OP said:
"Hold on, and enjoy the ride."

Just a matter of time, the world adapts decentralisation.

BTC/AUD = $29,214.80

I don't see a correction till new year, so get some quick profit lads ?

Do you think it will go back down to 18k for a little bit in the next month or so?
