

Forum:Hack Forums

Thread: How you act when someone owes you money

Speed Test - December 16, 2020, 12:32 pm

REAL situation.

Not talking about friends&family

Other people, businesses, etc..

What you do if a business owes you 1700€ ?

I want to hear your opinions.

Don't advice me, just write me what you will do if it's happens to you

RIP Juice WRLD - December 16, 2020, 12:38 pm

I do everything legally possible, and don't care if I take too much of a loss - it's all about making (?) an example.

Speed Test - December 16, 2020, 1:05 pm

(Dec 16, 2020 01:38 PM)RIP Juice WRLD Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) I do everything legally possible, and don't care if I take too much of a loss - it's all about making (?) an example.

What is the farthest legal way you can go?

Juoku - December 16, 2020, 1:07 pm

(Dec 16, 2020 01:32 PM)Speed Test Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) REAL situation.

Not talking about friends&family

Other people, businesses, etc..

What you do if a business owes you 1700€ ?

I want to hear your opinions.

Don't advice me, just write me what you will do if it's happens to you

I'll tell you what I literally did for 600$.

I had a flight booked (important note, this thing was before covid).

So I got a message that the flight was cancelled and they gave me an alternative, another flight one day sooner, me, a man with a job, I couldn't change my whole schedule because they think that a different day is a proper alternative, anyways I called them to get the refund and it said up to 2 months and I'll see my money back in my account.

2 months later, I didn't get my money so I called them, everyday, every hour to see where's my money, talking to them for 40 mins or so each time, literally EVERY hour until they finally issued a refund which proved to me they lied, they tried to get me to forget all about it and keep my money because when I got the notice of the refund it literally said on the page that the request was sent that specific day and two days afterwards I got my money back (I still called them tho until I saw it on my bank statement)

That's what I do, I'll harress the shit out of them until they give up, if that company wasn't located abroad I would've went down there every day instead of calling...

Deany - December 16, 2020, 1:08 pm

Idk man someone owed me $70 and I was flipping out about it

Speed Test - December 16, 2020, 1:21 pm

(Dec 16, 2020 02:07 PM)Juoku Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) I'll tell you what I literally did for 600$.

I had a flight booked (important note, this thing was before covid).

So I got a message that the flight was cancelled and they gave me an alternative, another flight one day sooner, me, a man with a job, I couldn't change my whole schedule because they think that a different day is a proper alternative, anyways I called them to get the refund and it said up to 2 months and I'll see my money back in my account.

2 months later, I didn't get my money so I called them, everyday, every hour to see where's my money, talking to them for 40 mins or so each time, literally EVERY hour until they finally issued a refund which proved to me they lied, they tried to get me to forget all about it and keep my money because when I got the notice of the refund it literally said on the page that the request was sent that specific day and two days afterwards I got my money back (I still called them tho until I saw it on my bank statement)

That's what I do, I'll harass the shit out of them until they give up, if that company wasn't located abroad I would've went down there every day instead of calling...

Brother you talk about company

Good idea anyway

You ever had this kind of thing with small business?

Forensic - December 16, 2020, 1:24 pm

I spent 6 days arguing with ubereats over a $9 order where the guy said I didn't answer so they said no refund. Eventually they gave me a refund but not after telling me they can break their rules to give me one 100 times.

Blogger - December 16, 2020, 1:31 pm

I used to let it go but now I go the legal route. But I don't treat them any different unless they "forget" to pay me.

Juoku - December 16, 2020, 1:34 pm

(Dec 16, 2020 02:21 PM)Speed Test Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Brother you talk about company

Good idea anyway

You ever had this kind of thing with small business?

It wasn't some big company but sure, had this with a local business, an employee charged me 25$ on my credit card and then she told me it didn't go through so I paid cash, but then I saw the charge on my card so I went there the next day and got a refund right away.

You need to be persistent and go there every day and let them know you ain't going nowhere before you get your money, if you got evidence of them owing you the money and they keep giving you a hard time feel free to use a lawyer and add his fee to the amount due, make them know you're serious.

Speed Test - December 16, 2020, 2:26 pm

(Dec 16, 2020 02:34 PM)Juoku Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) It wasn't some big company but sure, had this with a local business, an employee charged me 25$ on my credit card and then she told me it didn't go through so I paid cash, but then I saw the charge on my card so I went there the next day and got a refund right away.

You need to be persistent and go there every day and let them know you ain't going nowhere before you get your money, if you got evidence of them owing you the money and they keep giving you a hard time feel free to use a lawyer and add his fee to the amount due, make them know you're serious.

Lawyer is the best option I think

Hope it will worth the 1700€ they owes me..

It's really bothers me... mostly in night

Loved - December 16, 2020, 2:45 pm

(Dec 16, 2020 03:26 PM)Speed Test Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Lawyer is the best option I think

Hope it will worth the 1700€ they owes me..

It's really bothers me... mostly in night

Hey brother It's always upsetting to incur these kinds of losses but life goes on, keep your head up!

You can look into legal action but this might cost more than the $1700 itself.

Mr. Atlas - December 16, 2020, 2:49 pm

It depends on who knows and why he owes me money and the amount of money, a lot of parameters to take into account

Speed Test - December 16, 2020, 2:50 pm

(Dec 16, 2020 03:45 PM)Loved Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Hey brother It's always upsetting to incur these kinds of losses but life goes on, keep your head up!

You can look into legal action but this might cost more than the $1700 itself.

I am not going to give up.. he knows he owes me money but keep saying the "tomorrow" excuse.

He want to "check" with me on how much exactly he owes because he think he owes me less.

I am really freaked out I will take a lawyer if this thing is not sort out in 2 weeks maximum.

He will probably get a notice from my lawyer

Cooligan - December 16, 2020, 2:51 pm

I don't act, they do; when they commit the act of paying me my damn money back.

Loved - December 16, 2020, 2:52 pm

(Dec 16, 2020 03:50 PM)Speed Test Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) I am not going to give up.. he knows he owes me money but keep saying the "tomorrow" excuse.

He want to "check" with me on how much exactly he owes because he think he owes me less.

I am really freaked out I will take a lawyer if this thing is not sort out in 2 weeks maximum.

He will probably get a notice from my lawyer

I'd suggest sending him a final warning message that clearly states that you're looking to take legal action if the issue isn't resolved immediately. Hopefully that will get him out of his seat.

It would be ideal to get your $$ back before taking the legal route.

Speed Test - December 16, 2020, 2:52 pm

(Dec 16, 2020 03:52 PM)Loved Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) I'd suggest sending him a final warning message that clearly states that you're looking to take legal action if the issue isn't resolved immediately. Hopefully that will get him out of his seat.

It would be ideal to get your $$ back before taking the legal route.
Good idea thats what I thought

TobiTee - December 16, 2020, 2:59 pm

Really depends on how long the debt is outstanding? and what the debt is for? You should always give a timeline to when you would need the loan / debt paid off. As its business do you have a contract in place?

Perileos - December 16, 2020, 3:05 pm

If a business owed me that money, I would give 3 warnings.
First warning: email, with no consequences but with deadline.
Second warning: email, with consequences but with deadline.
Third warning: Debt collector visit.

Speed Test - December 16, 2020, 3:10 pm

(Dec 16, 2020 03:59 PM)TobiTee Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Really depends on how long the debt is outstanding? and what the debt is for? You should always give a timeline to when you would need the loan / debt paid off. As its business do you have a contract in place?

The debt is for something like 8 days
Small business - the owner owes me 1700€

What do you mean contract in place?

Lyrlei - December 16, 2020, 3:15 pm

Depends on who the person is, sometimes I ignore it and sometimes I nag like crazy.

Speed Test - December 16, 2020, 3:18 pm

(Dec 16, 2020 04:15 PM)Lyrlei Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Depends on who the person is, sometimes I ignore it and sometimes I nag like crazy.
And what if its 1700€?

Lyrlei - December 16, 2020, 3:22 pm

(Dec 16, 2020 04:18 PM)Speed Test Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) And what if its 1700€?
I'd never let anyone borrow this amount in the first place unless I'm ready to throw away my money, but.. if it did happen, what can you really do? I guess legal action if you desperately need the money, but if I know that the person is broke or something, I'd probably let it go, but if I know they've got the money, I'll probably make it a schedule to annoy that person. ?

TobiTee - December 16, 2020, 3:30 pm

(Dec 16, 2020 04:10 PM)Speed Test Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) The debt is for something like 8 days
Small business - the owner owes me 1700€

What do you mean contract in place?
The work you did, can you physically take it back? Has that person said he/she is not going to pay you?

Speed Test - December 16, 2020, 3:46 pm

(Dec 16, 2020 04:30 PM)TobiTee Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) The work you did, can you physically take it back?
Has that person said he/she is not going to pay you?

It's actually a shipping he did for me and picked up cash from many of my customers which went to 1700€ , he should give me back all of the amount he picked up and then I need to pay him for his service, but it went wrong and I already paid him for his service before he completed all which was around 300-400€

And now his debt to me is 1700€

And now he just keep saying that no way it's 1700€ and we should sit and calculate everything again, he knows he owes me money and even agree but he deny this amount.

And of course how he can't without the "tomorrow" excuses...

I have kind of proofs but he can claim that this is not true and he paid me this and this..

So I think lawyer is the best option?

Angela White - December 16, 2020, 3:49 pm

I subtly bring up that I'm earning money elsewhere or bring up someone else who owes me money, to see if they have that "oh shit, i forgot, i owe them money!" reaction.

Yanix - December 16, 2020, 5:39 pm

If it's on written arrangement then I will go for legal procedure :)

Phantom0perator - December 16, 2020, 5:44 pm

Money is important, you screw with a mans money you screw with his life, raise hell until i got what i was owed is what I'd do

514blizzy - December 16, 2020, 6:02 pm

(Dec 16, 2020 04:49 PM)KasprDev Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) I subtly bring up that I'm earning money elsewhere or bring up someone else who owes me money, to see if they have that "oh shit, i forgot, i owe them money!" reaction.

LOL shows you never get paid back when someone owes you $.

I'd slap you around and make you pay ME. :)

(Dec 16, 2020 01:32 PM)Speed Test Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) REAL situation.

Not talking about friends&family

Other people, businesses, etc..

What you do if a business owes you 1700€ ?

I want to hear your opinions.

Don't advice me, just write me what you will do if it's happens to you

Show up to that business, and demand your money. Simple as that, don't they legally have to pay you?

Angela White - December 16, 2020, 6:16 pm

(Dec 16, 2020 07:02 PM)514blizzy Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) LOL shows you never get paid back when someone owes you $.

I'd slap you around and make you pay ME. :)

Show up to that business, and demand your money. Simple as that, don't they legally have to pay you?

It usually works for me because I don't loan out money to people unless I trust them in the first place.

If I loan money to my stoner dad, I know he's going to pay me back, but also know his high ass probably forgot he even borrowed money from me so I have to remind him. That kind of shit.

Speed Test - December 16, 2020, 10:43 pm

(Dec 16, 2020 07:16 PM)KasprDev Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) It usually works for me because I don't loan out money to people unless I trust them in the first place.

If I loan money to my stoner dad, I know he's going to pay me back, but also know his high ass probably forgot he even borrowed money from me so I have to remind him. That kind of shit.

We are not talking about loans brother.

Anyway if I was loaning money to others as a business the way to charge someone who doesn't pay is much much different...

WELLPAID - December 18, 2020, 3:55 am

Make them suffer the legal way . They all have something dirty something they are hiding expose them . Make them take a loss! Payback is a bi*h ;)

guardian - December 18, 2020, 3:57 am

I will ask them politely to send me the money

If they ignore it I will ask again

After that I will get in contact with a lawyer

But if it's business I will never get impolite

Speed Test - December 18, 2020, 6:49 am

(Dec 18, 2020 04:57 AM)guardian Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) I will ask them politely to send me the money

If they ignore it I will ask again

After that I will get in contact with a lawyer

But if it's business I will never get impolite

Lets see in Sunday he meets me and lets see if he pays or not.

Features - December 18, 2020, 6:50 am

(Dec 18, 2020 04:57 AM)guardian Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) I will ask them politely to send me the money

If they ignore it I will ask again

After that I will get in contact with a lawyer

But if it's business I will never get impolite

Agreed this is about right.

Speed Test - December 19, 2020, 4:09 am

(Dec 18, 2020 07:50 AM)Features Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Agreed this is about right.

Yes but sometimes the amount they owes you is less than a lawyer cost

Features - December 19, 2020, 4:11 am

(Dec 19, 2020 05:09 AM)Speed Test Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Yes but sometimes the amount they owes you is less than a lawyer cost

yup thats for certain. like gov and taxes

Haaks - December 19, 2020, 4:14 am

I would use a collection agency to get my money back

popZmoke - December 19, 2020, 4:18 am

Do I really need the money atm?: If yes, go there to get my money.

How long has it been? 3+ months?: I am going there to get my money.

Dopamine - December 19, 2020, 4:23 am

Give him the best car's ride of his life