Thread: Greek Web Developers \(mostly PHP & Wordpress\)

Dr1ps - December 17, 2020, 2:16 pm

Hello, I'm looking for Greek web developers (or someone who understands Greek) to help me get some work off my back.

I set-up Wordpress websites daily, and when the client wants something that no plugin can do, I code it. Also in case a plugin I can make in an hour costs $60, I'd rather code it myself than make the client pay $60.

Good quality content writing is a plus because I CBA.

Payment is per task.

Are you freelancer or do you work in some company?

I own a small company, but I'm not looking to hire long-term.

I mean if I like their work I'll prefer them for future projects, but there won't be any contracts or attachments involved.

I'd like more details. PM me when you can.

Cheers!
