Thread: I like chilling with the homies on HF

Alex Buckland - December 23, 2020, 2:25 pm

Not a troll thread.

Just pointing out I'm 25 and was around way back, with Java drive bys etc. It seems HF has died and people have grown up. But I'm here as I'm serving a home prison sentence for hacking. Passing time. I will be HQ and give back to the community. Thanks!

So to the people being so judgemental, STFU!

I find HF a good place to unload my mind from time to time, hopefully I don't get banned.

Spoiler \(Click to View\)

Legit I've been reflecting on myself recently. I'm a terrible person. And every time I pick myself up a little, or get high, or be in a good mood, I always get dragged down.

I just want to get on with my life and every time I get high it's good to point things out and make things clear so I'm just typing shit for me to look back at.

People get me down. Their comments, looks, the way they think, the way they go on. But I don't think they're the problem. It comes down to me. I don't know what's going on in my life right now. All I know is I'm blessed, retarded and on my way to be rich. I tell people with confidence that I am making it to heaven. And I'll say it again. I'm making it to heaven. I'm blessed. And no one knows me, truly. I am a good person. A much better person now. I'm on the right track to be rich. I still have mental health issues, and I don't know who I am. No one is going to tell me who I am. How blessed I am. How much they love me. So I will take matters into my own hands when I'm done. Here's another retard thread.

Here's what you have to understand, nobody cares. I wish you the best though. Fix your life, it's possible.

Webcam hacking/extortion were the offenses last time I checked. Then they requested my bank details and saw I was a l33t hacker. Suckers!

Suckers! you have to be lying and that's because if it's true you wouldn't be allowed to use a cellphone or computer to connect back to the internet. They won't let you serve time at home knowing you committed cyber crimes. They would either arrest you and send you to permission or they would make it a requirement that you don't use any electronics.

Yet, you go on hackfourms.net and flat out admit to your crimes like it's no big deal which tells me you're lying.

Getting caught hacking anything, and I mean anything at all, is a 10 year in house prison sentence, in house being that you are in the jail house, not your house. Not to mention anything you may have done with the information you hacked, if you sold it you could very well be labeled a terrorist to your country. Trust me, I know what I'm talking about. You wouldn't even have access to a battery let alone a pc or smart phone bro. You got more stories than Stephen King and Dr. Seuss put together lol

OP was trolling like he does in all his threads.

Anyhow, OP has been banned for a year now.

Nothing to see here, move along now.
