There is a lot more, however, due to rules I'm unable to share them, however, I can privately.

Since I am a fairly new user on HackForums at the time of posting this, here are some of my reviews from other platforms, as these are not 'official posts' on this platform, I don't expect you to take these into account when it comes to my trust level:

Code iSanity: Great services legit guy great and fast support. Recommend his service. (April 11, 2020 at 01:13 PM)

STARTEXMISLEAD: I can vouch this guy is a legit developer. (April 11, 2020 at 01:51 PM)

NationalSecurity: Let me start this review by saying thank you to Aaron. He was there from the start to the end. He spent hours listening to my dumbass questions, developing the actual site and just being an all around GOAT. He made me a site for an affordable and realistic price. I got exactly what I had in mind, no more and no less. He setup everything for a hefty fee and showed me what I needed to keep the site up and running. That's called customer service. Now for the actual site- Everything was coded by him, all the graphics were made by him, everything was made by him. And the best part was that everything was amazing. All in all, I'm more than satisfied with this and encourage you to hire him. He's an absolute mad lad. +++Rep (May 19, 2020 at 07:56 PM)

ETA was 1month but was done in 15days~ He is an expert in programming that the kind of guy you wanna hire and gave me all instructions that are required for a noobie to setup and run the system.. Amazing work. (August 03, 2020 at 10:49 PM)
