Does anyone use at&t shared web hosting? I am wondering how easy the "easy site" software is to use. Does it have an HTML editor? What is your opinion of it? It seems like a good price so I was curious.

Looks like they want you to use their website builder, vs. doing anything custom. Also doesn't note the maximum size of the database per each database (most limit to 1GB others do it way less), which can be a PITA if you have a lot of content or don't manage it nicely.

For around 10 dollars a month (Maybe less if you buy elsewhere) you can get a nice VPS, then you can install something like Vestacp or HestiaCP and have a very powerful setup with full customization of your website.

That's what I would recommend.

$10 a month of if you're really on a buget $12 a year for a linux VPS, with enough requirements to run vestacp.
