Thread: ETH Bottom = \$850

LSD - January 11, 2021, 11:24 am just my prediction, not investment advice.

Previously after last dump, it had trouble breaking past $850. I believe it has very strong support there this time around.

Voxi - January 11, 2021, 11:45 am

I just picked up another 2 ETH and got my father to buy 1 too :)

Dilema - January 11, 2021, 12:07 pm

i personally think is a good time to get some ETH

Grimeta - January 11, 2021, 12:19 pm

My guess is $531 is gonna be a bottom this time. And I don't mean 1minute charts, I mean before a next big break out.

Grim - January 11, 2021, 12:49 pm

Picked some up as well i think its the beginning for ETH after this btc retrace was bound to happen

shreder - January 11, 2021, 12:54 pm

Doesn't matter if the bottom is $900... 800... 600? 500? 300? 200? 100? the further it goes down the easier it is to buy.

On previous cycles mostly. I've been making calls with my friends this bull cycle and I've been almost exactly right. I don't trade though, I'm afraid to be left without coins in the case it moons, since I'm a strong believer in BTC. So, we are seeing a dip from 40k like I called, it should normally be ~40% but since this bullmarket started too early (was supposed to happen like half a year later), I think it might be a longer and hence a stronger retrace, more like ~55%, which would leave BTC around 17k, and since ETH/BTC pair has recently established a strong 32:1 ratio, that would leave ETH at ~531. After that, moon. ?

Edit: I'm too lazy to draw graphs etc. Also it's just my guess, no flame pls. Peace. ?

Edit 2: and by moon I mean BTC ~115k, ETH ~?? idk rllly, but my guess is ~3.5k. All that within the next 12 months. Will be interesting to see in the future if I was right. :)

Thank you.

Does anyone recommend or not recommend exchanging BTC to ETH at this dip?

Dilema - January 11, 2021, 1:59 pm

i think that if BTC breaks the 35k barrier again, it might rise again, what do you guys think? i think 35k is an important barrier

This is just institutions dumping to shake weak hands so they can grab more btc before they pump. Their playing the long game.

Short term pain for long term gains

Hodl

Hodl^ this

IMO you should only sell ur crypto if you're like in a bad position when ur longing/shorting, inbe4 u get liquidated. Everything else is a full hold

This, exactly this. This is just shaking of the weak hands, might not be from institutions but who cares.

Buying when I see red, have buy orders set for ETH $950 -> $600!

Could you please stop trying to pick stupid fights with people? The sentence makes complete sense.

He is saying: They are dumping (present tense) so they can (future tense) grab more when the price is lower.

That's what JP Morgan is doing with physical silver....

BaldCunt - January 12, 2021, 2:53 pm

I'll take around $700+ as bottom,

I doubt it will go down more than that
