Thread: My Escrow Blockchain

Apricus - January 11, 2021, 4:43 pm

Hey Guys,

I posted a while back about my Escrow/Middleman blockchain idea involving both a seller and buyer transaction verification before processing a combination of the two. The project has progressed quite a bit and my team of developers and I will be releasing some more information soon. If anyone here is interested in supporting the project in any shape or form please reply to this thread as I am really looking for some additional help ?. I know that HF is an incredible community and I feel that this idea has some great potential going forward.
