What are your top 5 must watch animes that people sleep on and why?

Hinamatsuri - Similar to typical anime comedy but has a twist and has a "feel-good" story with things you can take away from it and grow

Kuuchuu Buranko - A very different anime where there is no villain or common goal but instead interesting ways people deal with mental illnesses

Dorohedoro - Really good action with a complicated plot that the anime barely even begins to cover so you have to read the manga

High Score Girl - I never watch romance or slice of life but the story had me hooked like a middle aged mom that can't stop watching soap operas. I kept wanting to know what happens next, the plot development and the ending made it nearly perfect for me

Nichijou/Asobi Asobase - Some people say they're not overrated because people know about them but I never see anyone talking about them. Great comedy anime that break expectations and stereotypes of what characters should be like

Dororo

Elfen lied

the tower of god

No game no life

Darwins game

Guarantee you will binge watch every single one of these. Tower of god is by far my favorite though with no game no life a close second and Darwins game and Dororo tied for third Another good and upcoming anime is Dragon Quest The Adventure of Dai. I actually am really enjoying it right now.

minami-ke

underrated cute girls doing cute things. loveable characters in a harmless, mostly stress-free comedy anime.

shakunetsu no takkyuu musume just girls playing ping pong to sick beats, pls watch it, it's very cute.

only two that come to mind, my taste in anime has been incredibly select over the past few years.
