Hello I am new at reverse engineering so I need help. I have a exe file need to completely decrypt. I used unconfuser and de4dot result is not bad but I need more. All I see is just garbage class and method names... How can I fix garbage class and method names and change them to original names? Is there any improved tool to decrypt this garbage names too or any method I can use to fix them? Do you have better tools to make life easier with confuserex? If you have can you share it? Btw Confuser version: Confuser(1.X)[-]

As far as I know, de4dot cannot restore the original names of the types and their corresponding members after an exe or dll is obfuscated. Type and member renaming is an irreversible operation.
