Thread: Question about the EVGA RTX 3080

Anatoli_Smorin - January 20, 2021, 6:49 pm

Is the EVGA RTX 3080 FTW OC any good?

EVGA has had some technical problems with their graphics card brand in the past.

Some of the EVGA GTX 1080's literally caught fire!

I heard it if very good in the 3080 lineup, ZOTAC is the worst apparently

Which one would you say is the best?

I heard some good things about the ASUS TUF

Gametrusion - January 21, 2021, 6:28 pm

The best and most expensive is the ROG Strix

Any 3080 is viable, the technical problems in the past were just driver issues. Haven't heard of anything negative recently.

I've seen plenty of videos on it and reviews and they were all for the most part positive. I haven't really seen anything negative, neither them catching fire to be honest

If you are talking about this model:

I have the 3070 and it's working flawlessly, from the reviews I've seen its supposed to be one of the better 3070/3080 models you can get.

I have the EVGA FTW3 Ultra 3080 and an ASUS Strix OC and I much prefer the EVGA. Works great, low temps and no issues. My ASUS runs a little hotter.
