It's a scam, please stay away from that site

Cloud mining: If you pay me $20, I'll mine for you and give you $50. How does that make sense even in theory? You can tell it's just bullshit bruh.

Sounds extremely fishy and the site isn't even up anymore.

Youngcasher - February 8, 2021, 9:33 am

If you have an active block,chain account dm me on tele-gram for details @ Youngcasher .Nothing needed from you upfront. we load your account and split the profits let's make some money I won't ask for any $$$ upfront. how it works, basically -- you withdraw anything you have in your wallet so you're left with zero balance. then I will need to login, load with BTC and we split whatever I load - 60/40

Cloud mining is a Scheme. You will never see earnings from that site.

I got paid out from a website called genesis mining or something like that after spending $40 on cloud mining, but I ended up getting cut off after getting paid out like $70 in total LOL

I fell for it in early 2017. $1000 in would have given me like $2000 a month and i got hooked.

Over time the withdraw minimum kept growing so my money was stuck.

I kept earning on the site but then "difficulty" would go up lowering your income potential, rinse and repeat, then one day the site disappeared and a lot of the you-tube personalities that were promoting it disappeared too.

Unique concept turned to a blatant scam.

I remember I made a good return off cloud mining before and withdrew my money. Few days later, that same website discounted by saying they were hacked.

Sounds like Innovamine. I was able to cash out before they went tits up also, I actually made money off them because I just took my original out and kept reinvesting profits.. They are Ponzi schemes awaiting to exit scam.

EDIT: Just checked. Site is already not working lol
