Thread: Monetizing a 300K Instagram Page?

GramDoctor - January 22, 2021, 3:54 pm

Hello could use some help from you guys,

I have an Instagram account that is in the house, mansion, travel niche with almost 300K followers. I've had the idea of advertising airbnbs or hotels for money on my page. Just cant figure out how to find a bunch of hosts that would be interested in buying promotions. Any Ideas?

I've tried messaging hosts directly on Airbnb, but unfortunately, Airbnb doesn't allow this.

Any ideas on where I could find people that would be interested in advertising their house, apartment, hotel, etc?

Other ideas of monetizing the account would be great too!

Would appreciate the ideas!

1. Pick IG course of your choice.
2. Ask to be an affiliate.
3. Spin your promo of the course as "Travel whilst working from your phone".

Travel niche + course combination.

Easy profit.

I wouldn't recommend being an affiliate of mine as I'm low ticket and currently switching things up but there's other courses out there from people who are really good sellers: Niklas Pedde as an example.

I think you should advertise your own products or products that gives you a direct commission per sale. According to your niche, there are many products available on clickbank.com, cj.com and mylead.global

Just register, login and search for products according to your niche on these platforms.

To be honest any glossary nearby at hotels might lead to proper market knowledge. If a watermark works on IG just use a picture and once again include watermark. repeat

Other than that mix real life or go on travel.
