Thread: Toxic duplicate account member.

Wolf. - February 7, 2021, 1:28 pm

Hey, not sure if this is the right place to post this, but I would like to shine some light on a toxic member I had to recently deal with, opened up a thread asking for some advice on the type of hash I'm having to deal with, A few members notably replied giving me their advice but the general consensus was that no one really knew what the fuck they were,

Then this user shows up,

His first message was somewhat stuck up, Calling out other users for giving advice that is wrong, when they clearly stated they didn't really know either, But I thought it would stop there, I thought to reply but couldn't really be asked. An argument then proceeded to break out between people on my thread,

After seeing this a few days later, I decided to close the thread, I was not happy with the way this was going as the user I am talking about in the post decided to go snooping in the other users' posts, trying to call him out for unrelated stuff. I don't want people who came to my thread to give me some advice, to have to deal with such users. I closed the thread, hoping this would be the end. Due to this I gave the user negative rep.

I then receive a few convo's from said user:

I then ignored the user and moved on with my day.

I saw his recent posts got him limited access, I saw he went on Yoda_warrior's posts and just tried to discredit him for no reason.

He then proceeded to create a new account to then contact me again, and to continue arguing with other people myself included. When talking with the user it was clear he was very immature and failed to comprehend that people can share different ideas. He was rude, childish and just had a very narrow mindset.

I wish to call for this user to be banned due to the creation of duplicate accounts to get out of an access violation. The rest of the info is to give some clarity and insight into this user.

This can be somewhat proven but doing a trust scan on his account:

During the time I am writing this post, I can see he must have made yet another account.

Userid of original account: 4852388

UserID of dpe account: 4944425

I would like to apologies to Yoda warrior and orbit._. Thank you for trying to help me with my problem and for having deal with this child.

The report button is currently working just fine, although I understand it doesn't allow for the same public expression of butt hurt when you use it properly.

Regardless, this has been handled.
