The OGs will remember Antshares.

Neo 3.0 coming soon with major development, development on Flamingo too.

Keep an eye on Neo and FLM soon, due to moon.

Hoping to land on Mars :)

Already up 20%+ from when I posted yesterday, and burst through the resistance at 28. We could seriously see a push towards 100 in the coming weeks.

Sakuto - February 9, 2021, 10:08 am

I remember going from 5K€ to 75K€, then back to 5K when the big crash happens.

I didn't cash out, I thought I was going to be rich :(

We already know how much buzz and hype the release of mainnets creates. Neo hasn't done much to market their upcoming release, but slowly slowly are getting into the swing of things.

With still the testnet and mainnet to go, I believe we can see some real numbers.

Mewtwo - February 9, 2021, 10:18 am

I hope Neo goes ath, last time it was around $200. I doubt it'll reach there but $100 is good enough. I bought a bag yesterday

Omniscient - February 9, 2021, 10:49 am

I have never been excited about NEO.

[VATOP=NEO]

The project is developed and does okay but where does it go from here?

NEO is jumping into the DeFi bandwagon but is that really going to excite investors outside their current base?

Just not trusting this.

Just not trusting this.I feel as if they focus more on development than on marketing, and the price shows this, investors are getting a bit restless as well, but you have to remember everyone's looking for easy, get-rich-quick money. Neo isn't the coin for this.

For example, how much marketing did TRON do both during and after it's release, or similar cryptos, and still haven't achieved anything, with the technology nowhere near NEO's.

Although, Neo does post a weekly update, and does keep all it's users updated. But because they're not SHILLING the coin like so many other developers, investors are getting restless.

I've been longed on NEO for a while, and I myself am also getting restless, but I truly believe that strangely NEO works different to many other cryptos, in the sense that it's development first, marketing after.

As far as the entry into DEFI goes, you don't think a top 30 coin releasing their own DEFI coin and developing it will not cause even a x2-x3 increase in the price of FLM, considering it has only a 50-60m market cap right now? I can easily see FLM doing x5 from here, provided NEO continue development.

?XiS - February 12, 2021, 9:45 pm

I can see Neo easily doing x3 in the next couple of months, with its Defi coin FLM doing x5-x10 depending on how long this bull run lasts for.

Thank you my good sir.

Easy 200€ if I sell now

Kitaz - February 14, 2021, 5:38 am

This coin caused me so much heartache, i bought Antshares for about a 1-2 dollars and gradually sold up to $50 then greed set in and held the rest all the way up to $170 or so since delirium was in the market at the time and we were all going to become millionaires, held it all the way back down and never sold.

I didn't lose money and still made a very nice profit but I could of made serious bank if i didn't get so emotionally attached to the project.

I still believe the project and it's a shame it's not talked about much anymore, only have a small stack on exchange to sell up to $100 hopefully, rest is being staked for #Gas longterm

Here's the link to follow releases towards the mainnet. I expect parabolic activity coming up.
