

Forum:Hack Forums

Thread: Looking for a development partner in crime

xfku - February 9, 2021, 3:38 pm

Hey there,

I'm looking for a person or more people whom I can team up with and work on a few projects with. Start maybe a few products and make some money. Passive income in the long haul.

I like to do stuff by the book, so no "black hat" criminal stuff. And cut out all the crap about start up payment. I'll pay for the domain, server hosting or where we get at in the start. Later on the server hosting and so forth should be paid by the passive income. Eventually we split the money between us.

Honestly just want together with some on projects that might actually turn into something.

Thanks, take care.

newvibe - February 9, 2021, 6:34 pm

(Feb 9, 2021 04:38 PM)xfku Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Hey there,

I'm looking for a person or more people whom I can team up with and work on a few projects with. Start maybe a few products and make some money. Passive income in the long haul.

I like to do stuff by the book, so no "black hat" criminal stuff. And cut out all the crap about start up payment. I'll pay for the domain, server hosting or where we get at in the start. Later on the server hosting and so forth should be paid by the passive income. Eventually we split the money between us.

Honestly just want together with some on projects that might actually turn into something.

Thanks, take care.

feel free to pm me with more details