Thread: Discord User/Seller/server ban spree info & be careful

If you use discord for sales I recommend having a backup account & group on telegram even if what your selling abides by discord TOS.

Discord is targeting tons of sellers, services & servers

Original post made on competitive forum January 16th when first wave of bans occurred.

If you sell stuff on discord you are liable to be termed.

They are banning in bulk, this week is their 3-4th ban wave/spree in a 1 month period.

I originally warned of it on another forum before they targeted online forums for banning January 16th.

There is no judging when or who may be termed, just prepare for if you do get termed.

Wow. That's stupid of them. A lot of big Youtubers and other influencers use Discord to sell and interact with their communities. They're going to lose a lot of activity.
