What is your favorite type of blade?

Mine is a karambit blade

I own a few similar to the image below

What about you? Are you a knife collector / sword collector?

I personally love butterfly knives. I think they are super cool and very unique to open.

Love them too. Not very practical, but certainly fun. Used to have a trainer I would flip around.

I've actually been itching to get a kerambit, but I want an authentic one and they're surprisingly not that easy to come by.

I've always liked switchblades and butterfly knives but karambits are also cool.

Where do you guys usually get your knives from?

I'm Italian by blood, so it's the stiletto switchblade all day for me.

Yeah they can get pretty spendy also if you are looking for "Authentic".

I forgot to add, I do really like butterfly knives too, I love doing those kinds of tricks you see people doing in films with them. Cut my fingers up a lot with them, but it's still fun!

Find a real blacksmith to make what you want , There are a few on tik tok that will make a video of the creation of the knife you asked for as well.

Seeing it forged is pretty interesting

I never even thought about that. I'm definitely going to look into it!

The first time I saw this thread I immediately thought of a Karambit because of CSGO, A butterfly knife looks pretty nice.
