Thread: Option to hide signatures in mobile view only

Not sure if this ever has been suggested, if so, my apologies.

As the thread title says, I'd like to suggest an option in the UserCP to only hide signatures on mobile view.

Personally, I like to see them when I'm on the PC, but when being on the mobile phone, they become quite annoying. Making it an option also makes sure it doesn't enforce the change for people who don't mind, or prefer them.

Not a bad shout, I get what you mean about them, they can be quite long and take up a lot of page space.

You can hide sigs in settings. We're not going to do it based on mobile/desktop.

Yeah, that's kind of where the suggestion to add it as an option in the UserCP from. Otherwise you'll have to switch the option every time based on your device to get your preferred way of browsing.

But that's understandable.

Wasn't a bad idea, either.
