Well good for you. You got rid of the things that most people worry about. Now, you might open your doors to enlightenment. Do remember some days are always worse than others but this too shall pass.

I feel like this everyday. Not one day goes by not thinking this way but you still gotta keep your head up cause the only other option is death and nobody don't wanna die.

Thing is bro, you cared enough to tell everyone about this, so you do care what others think and what's going on, even if you don't realise it. Stay strong.
