Thread: XSS attack

Hi, before i start, i am not paying any amount of currency for the support. I just need a little help. So i was wondering how i can use XSS to steal email credential cookies? I've been researching for ages and can't find out how. If there isn't a way with XSS, can you tell me a way that is possible?

if you are researched this for ages and you dont find how to do, than this kind of "work" is not for you

I have researched for ages. It just comes up with stealing credentials from a form or from an injectable site. How do i just steal cookies from a site like outlook when they enter my site?

xss ...redirect ..cookie stealer

for sure will be a bit harder to find persistent xss in outlook, but why not ... with your knowledge nothing impossible

Look at the contents of document.cookie and find a way to pass them on to you.
