Had a date with a girl and she forgot what time we set, arrived and she told me she was suppose to see this guy. So the three of us were in this guy's car, both trying to get the girl which was really akward.

Uhhh I've tied a girl up when I've fucked her not even joking either (at her request but I was not going to complain)

I've let a girl eat my ass too because she asked, some girls are just straight up freaks!

Neon™ - March 2, 2021, 10:02 am

Oh lmao, I moved to study in a different country and 1 week in a new country and this girl adds me on facebook and we start chatting and suddenly she's like: "can I come over to your place?" I was like "Ok". After 2 hours I hear someone knocking on the door, I open and see the girl with 2 big suitcases next to her. I'm like "WTF, you told me you wanted to just come over?", she replied that she had nowhere to stay blablabla. The dumb fuck I am, I let her stay with me for 2 weeks where we slept in the smallest possible single bed... The first few nights were awkward af and then on the fourth or fifth night we both got drunk and fucked. After these 2 weeks she got her own place, we saw each other few times and then we lost contact :D

When I was on a deployment to Spain I met a group of girls the second week I was there. There were five or six I think, and I was involved with a couple of them. A couple of months in one of the girls tells me their friend (the least attractive one, I was super shallow ?) liked me and wanted to hook up. Honestly, if this had been when I first met them I probably would've smashed, but after a couple of months of Spanish beauties I wasn't trying to settle for someone, I'd rate as a Spanish six (probably an American 7 1/2).

She was an attractive woman, but I just wasn't feeling it, which happens. So I told her I wasn't interested and kept it moving. Time goes on and I continue adventuring until it's a week until we have to go back to the states. We go to this club called Black Cats which was our usual hangout and the girl I turned down heard that I was leaving soon.

With her group of friends, they come over and start buying us shots, and we all start dancing. I blackout as per usual and when I wake up the first thing I notice is that it's hot as shit and very bright wherever I am. When my eyes open, I see the girl I've been dodging for literal months on top of me. To make matters worse we're on the beach, and one thing I hate above all is being sandy lol. Since we're already this far along I just along with it. I was still extremely drunk and when I finished I couldn't remember if I pulled out (of course she didn't a condom ?).

My friend who was friends with the same group of people on Facebook hit me some time ago and was like hey bro, you know the girl from Spain had a kid right. He told me the kid looked older and asked if I knew if she had a child when we were in Spain. I was like you know as well as I do she didn't have a kid ?

So every since then, it's been on my consciousness because technically it wasn't consensual. However, if there is a kid involved I should probably go see if the child is even mine or not when I'm able to. I should have gone with a funny story, but I just typed all this so fuck it lol. This is the last one for a while, I just killed my own vibe ?

Lol, my life has definitely been an interesting one. A few years ago I was honestly like I don't care due to the circumstances, but now after maturing and realizing that the child is innocent regardless, I know I definitely have to at least contact her and after some small talk ask her some questions about the child. Then I'll go from there depending on if she thinks the child is mine too.

I also have to tell my wife ? It won't be a big deal tho as she was my best friend during the time of my exploits, and we would talk about literally everything I was doing there ??? (had no clue we were going to get married at the time lol). So she knows the story, but I of course didn't tell her about the kid when my friend told me. Didn't care at the time and the situation was still a little fresh, so I wasn't going to contact her to ask about the child. Crazy crazy stuff lol.

Lol, it wasn't comfortable in the least. Pretty much the only thing I got out of the experience was that I could say I did it ?

So you.. are telling me.. that the rooms for students are less than 20 sq m? I can't even wrap my mind around that. I know it's not just the students tho. Their minimalism is admirable! My fat ass would be claustrophobic as f%ck ? Do a lot of students move off campus once they are able or do most not care? No, it's dirt cheap. I/google lol, converted it to 148 sq m, but it's a little more than 1600 sq ft. I live in Florida tho, so the cost of living where I am to live in a nice neighborhood is cheap. However, if you go to southern Florida the prices there can get pretty expensive for less sq ft/ sq m. I think my bedroom alone is 300 sq ft, I need a lot of space tho.

True true, I definitely worked my way up to this, but 500 sq ft 1bd is still really good. You have plenty of space for yourself and that's what matters. I just have a big-ish family and I'm weird with small spaces. Like I'm good for a few months, but if things are cluttered and I can't move about freely I start getting irritable. Not sure if that makes sense tho.

It's the common measuring for living space, like a 9 tatami mattress room... all real estate will have sizes in tatami, some of them display in sq m. but if you go to shop and ask in sq m, they'll internally convert to tatami. When you look at the exact sq m size it feels weird because of the fractions?

When you look at the exact sq m size it feels weird because of the fractions?

Holy smokes that's wild lol. You really are a wealth of knowledge ? And yes f%ck fractions, looking at them would confuse the crap out of me.

You have plenty of space for yourself and that's what matters. I just have a big-ish family and I'm weird with small spaces. Like I'm good for a few months, but if things are cluttered and I can't move about freely I start getting irritable. Not sure if that makes sense tho.

OK a hotel 1bdr is never cluttered as they clean daily. And hotel because its the same price as renting a furnished 1bdr apartment as furnishing isn't my thing yet, maybe when I decide to stick with one pussy and be stable.

Method: Just negotiate with the hotel until they're bored af from you so they provide a good price. That way you get to live in a 1bdr with valet, daily cleaning, and damn cheaper than a rat sewer in Tokyo or New York.

That is very true. I mean clutter like if this space is too small and it makes it awkward to move around in. For example, you have a smaller bedroom with a desk in it for work, and the desk is close to your bed, so you have to move at an angle to get around the desk to access your bed. Or if even with the bare minimum of kids' toys there isn't enough space for the kids to play and not be in a walkway.

Just little things like that drive me crazy. There were 3 people living in a 1000 sq ft place, which wasn't terrible but I knew I needed more room. That is definitely a good idea about the hotel tho. Have you ever stayed in one long term? Longest I had to stay in one was around a month I think for business. Although, I'm not sure if I could stay long-term.

I got around the computer desk problem by having my desk right next to bed, a wireless mouse, a wireless keyboard. Now bed is my chair and the small sofa table is the computer desk.

If you speak to a hotel regarding monthly prices or yearly prices and provide upfront cheques. They give a much lower and different rate than the average.

I got mine for 900$+- a month and it's a 4 star in the center of the city.

You just have to negotiate until you get a good price. Or they get brain cancer by your negotiation and decide to get rid of you by still giving you a good price. Both ways work.

A bad joke you're right, and

To OP

Just be straight forward. No need to give hopes by saying it's too early for it. Which means that there is a time where it isn't early.

Just fully go "You're bad at tarot reading. Shouldn't do that again." You get out with turning it to a joke, same time there is no early or right time for it. Or maybe you actually want that, who knows Damn, that's insane! That would be thousands a month without negotiating. You're right, there is a way around everything.

Also, I heard of a guy who went to soap land (Japanese brothel) and negotiated price XD I'm amazed and his ability to do it.

That experience turned me off I guess?

I was really excited to try such shops for the first time (just for the sake of experience), and it was OL themed one with running promotion for some extra time.?

It depends on how bad you wanna get laid, and how drunk you are I guess. Personally I would give it a shot for the experience as long as I don't see any safety concerns for me, and that she's aware of her own safety concerns.
