Thread: Is NFA for bytes allowed or will it be allowed?

Iconical - March 3, 2021, 6:21 pm

im looking to offer more services for users to spend bytes on and want to know the regulations for Non free accounts for bytes, and if this will ever be allowed?

Omniscient - March 3, 2021, 6:23 pm

Yes, that's fine I suppose.

is there a minimum byte requirement similar to the $1?

I was gonna do 100 bytes = 1 NFA

This is a very interesting development.....

Very cool idea to bring more uses for bytes into the marketplace ?

After reading Omni's post, it's good to know for sure that this is allowed.

Also glad to see it. Should encourage the further-use of Bytes in the Marketplace.

How will that work with the $1 minimum per account NFA rule though?

Bytes prices go up and down every day and they don't have a fixed price. Therefore they can be worth less than $1 one day and it will break the $1 rule.

I'd say we should have a minimum of 500 bytes. That isn't so easy to obtain and you can buy for a dollar or so.

Wouldn't that make it official that bytes are a currency with fixed value tho (even if it's only for NFA) and not just a forum reward system?

Also, for example, if someone goes to buy 500 bytes for $1, why not just skip that step and use the $1 to buy the NFA, save the time to buy the bytes then buy the NFA, and saves the tx fees spent to buy the bytes.

Last December/January, we have seen the market price for bytes went down to $2/1k. Also, 2 years ago when for a short time, the price went down to about $0.1/1k.

I like the idea of allowing bytes to be used with NFA, but I don't know if it can actually be applied without having problems with it.

Well, NFAs already have a minimum in dollars, maybe there should be a bytes minimum, too. Either way, nothing I said is official nor a rule. The bytes minimum might or might not be a thing. For now, it's important to be known that you can buy NFAs with bytes as Omni stated above.

Ok boys you know what's next.... Lrrrs NFA account shop. Come get it while it's hot ?

Well, that's why I was asking for more information if possible on how it will work with the $1 NFA rule.

Interesting nice new integration either way.

I would say just have the minimum price in bytes be whatever the going market value for $1 of bytes is at the time. It's kind of similar to buying NFAs in bitcoin. Sometimes that $1 of bitcoin isn't worth $1 anymore and sometimes it's worth more.

Of course, it's up to Omni, this is just my take on it.

So it's now policy. NFA can be with Bytes but a 500 byte minimum price.
