How to Spread your .exe file using Google Drive

Explanation

An unpatched security weakness in Google Drive that can be exploited by malicious files disguised as legitimate documents or images, below here is a screenshot explaining this and also a video showing you how its done...

Been using this for quite a while now, as a way of bypassing alerts when downloading executables in Chrome rather than disguising executables as legitimate files. Google will patch this very soon.

So how is this useful as a spreading technique exactly? Even though it downloads the file what would possess the person to execute it?

what if i had shared a legit xmr miner or a gaming cheat and used same downloadlink. then later change it to a binded version(binded with my rat or virus etc) and henceforth further downloads has your virus in it. of course users will read your file is clean at first few days you did not update the version.

interesting thread, if you changed your mind about a vouch copy, i'm ready to grab one and to make a review. 700$ it's a high price for spreading method, people should know if worth it.

ps: i don't rat or botnet, but seams interesting for me the exploiting ways of humans.
