

Forum:Hack Forums

Thread: What was your first gaming console?

Neon™ - March 12, 2021, 10:47 am

What was your very first gaming console?

Being a 90s kid, for me it was the: Sega Genesis (Mega Drive). Sometimes I still miss playing on it.

Verethragna - March 12, 2021, 10:50 am

(Mar 12, 2021 11:47 AM)Neon™ Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) What was your very first gaming console?

Being a 90s kid, for me it was the: Sega Genesis (Mega Drive). Sometimes I still miss playing on it. Lol that was my first one too I believe. I think I had the Sonic the Hedgehog game and I would play that shit none stop. Then I moved on to Nintendo 64 and I played madden 64, Starfox, Super Smash, Mario Cart, GoldenEye, and a couple of other ones. Those were the days lol.

Neon™ - March 12, 2021, 10:58 am

(Mar 12, 2021 11:50 AM)Verethragna Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Lol that was my first one too I believe. I think I had the Sonic the Hedgehog game and I would play that shit none stop. Then I moved on to Nintendo 64 and I played madden 64, Starfox, Super Smash, Mario Cart, GoldenEye, and a couple of other ones. Those were the days lol.

When I think of the Sega Genesis, the image of Sonic immediately pops into my head. I lost countless hours of playing this game and now when I think about it I never finished it? The farthest I've reached was some ice/winter level I think? There were some other games like a casino one which I also played a lot and learned how to play many games like roulette and stuff? There was also one game with Michael Jackson on it lmao.

Mario Cart is a classic on the Nintendo! Zelda and Duck Hunt too lol.

Verethragna - March 12, 2021, 11:09 am

(Mar 12, 2021 11:58 AM)Neon™ Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) When I think of the Sega Genesis, the image of Sonic immediately pops into my head. I lost countless hours of playing this game and now when I think about it I never finished it? The farthest I've reached was some ice/winter level I think? There were some other games like a casino one which I also played a lot and learned how to play many games like roulette and stuff? There was also one game with Michael Jackson on it lmao.

Mario Cart is a classic on the Nintendo! Zelda and Duck Hunt too lol.

? Yeah, I never finished it either. Damn that game was so frustrating lol. I remember getting trapped in one of those big circles that you would have to run around to get those golden rings ? lol.

I forgot about Zelda and duck hunt. I wasted so many hours on them too ? Have you ever gone back and looked at the graphics on those old games. Man, they were so bad ? They were great at that time tho.

Megatron - March 12, 2021, 11:21 am

The first gaming console I ever owned was a Playstation 2 that I got for Christmas when I was six. I did, however, play the Nintendo 64 and the SNES over at my cousin's house a lot as a little kid.

1337GAMER - March 12, 2021, 11:22 am

I'm old, so ColecoVision.

Maxie - March 12, 2021, 11:24 am

I got a Gameboy Advance XP (SP?) on Christmas when I was 5 years old with Pokemon Ruby. Played that game like 300 hours as I did not understand the English at all. But did catch all legendaries before I understood anything about the game, which I am quite proud of.

Pound - March 12, 2021, 11:29 am

GameCube and ps2 wow, brings back memories

Wealthy Hacker - March 12, 2021, 11:31 am

I'm pretty sure it was a Nintendo 64 with Donkey Kong, Mario, Spiderman and more! :D

Neon™ - March 12, 2021, 11:31 am

(Mar 12, 2021 11:53 AM)Incog Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) PS2, I was very young, all we had was a teenage mutant ninja turtle game and some tony hawk skating game, this was of course with no internet or psn live or whatever it's called.

After that it was the Xbox 360 with minecraft, then I bought my own xbox one and I've still got it, took it apart actually recently for cleaning, didnt quite put it together right but it works ? Those were the times! I've never played ninja turtles tho, but Tony Hawk's Pro Skater series...simply amazing. We played this game so much with my friends.

When it comes to Minecraft, for the first time I played it on my PC and those were the times I enjoyed it the most (before it went mainstream).

(Mar 12, 2021 12:09 PM)Verethragna Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) ? Yeah, I never finished it either. Damn that game was so frustrating lol. I remember getting trapped in one of those big circles that you would have to run around to get those golden rings ? lol.

I forgot about Zelda and duck hunt. I wasted so many hours on them too ? Have you ever gone back and looked at the graphics on those old games. Man, they were so bad ? They were great at that time tho. Lmao yes I remember these circles lol. I agree with you on the graphics?? for me as a kid those were the best graphics EVER! I never thought there could be better graphics at all?

(Mar 12, 2021 12:21 PM)Megatron Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) The first gaming console I ever owned was a Playstation 2 that I got for Christmas when I was six. I did, however, play the Nintendo 64 and the SNES over at my cousin's house a lot as a little kid.

Nice! What games did you play on the PS2? I played mostly Tony Hawk's Pro Skater

(Mar 12, 2021 12:22 PM)1337GAMER Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) I'm old, so ColecoVision.

I've actually seen this one in the Berlin museum of video games but never had the chance to play on it.

Megatron - March 12, 2021, 11:41 am

(Mar 12, 2021 12:31 PM)Neon™ Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Nice! What games did you play on the PS2? I played mostly Tony Hawk's Pro Skater

I played a wide variety of games. I started out with Star Wars: Battlefront, Dynasty Warriors 2, and Mercenaries. I also enjoyed Ratchet and Clank and the GTA titles.

Neon™ - March 12, 2021, 11:55 am

(Mar 12, 2021 12:24 PM)Maxie Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) I got a Gameboy Advance XP (SP?) on Christmas when I was 5 years old with Pokemon Ruby. Played that game like 300 hours as I did not understand the English at all. But did catch all legendaries before I understood anything about the game, which I am quite proud of. Oh that's the one that got released in the early '00s. I remember my cousin had one and I was very envious of him. My parents never bought me one lmao. When I was around your age I did not understand a thing too and still played. I learned English thanks to video games btw. That's why I was one of the best students in English class (cuz I was literally the only gamer) lol.

(Mar 12, 2021 12:29 PM)Skittles Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) GameCube and ps2 wow, brings back memories Holy F. I forgot about the GameCube, never had the chance to play on it but back then it looked like tech from the future lol.

(Mar 12, 2021 12:31 PM)Wealthy Hacker Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) I'm pretty sure it was a Nintendo 64 with Donkey Kong, Mario, Spiderman and more! :D Nintendo 64 with the alien looking joystick, hell yeah!

(Mar 12, 2021 12:41 PM)Megatron Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) I played a wide variety of games. I started out with Star Wars: Battlefront, Dynasty Warriors 2, and Mercenaries. I also enjoyed Ratchet and Clank and the GTA titles. I remember playing Battlefront too, never played Dynasty Warriors but I've played Mercenaries. The Ratchet and Clank series were all awesome, I'm a huge fan.

1337GAMER - March 12, 2021, 12:04 pm

(Mar 12, 2021 12:31 PM)Neon™ Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) I've actually seen this one in the Berlin museum of video games but never had the chance to play on it.

I remember playing Q*bert and some Smurfs game. It was really fun as a kid.

Verethragna - March 12, 2021, 12:05 pm

(Mar 12, 2021 12:31 PM)Neon™ Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Those were the times! I've never played ninja turtles tho, but Tony Hawk's Pro Skater series...simply amazing. We played this game so much with my friends.

When it comes to Minecraft, for the first time I played it on my PC and those were the times I enjoyed it the most (before it went mainstream).

Lmao yes I remember these circles lol. I agree with you on the graphics?? for me as a kid those were the best graphics EVER! I never thought there could be better graphics at all?

Nice! What games did you play on the PS2? I played mostly Tony Hawk's Pro Skater

I've actually seen this one in the Berlin museum of video games but never had the chance to play on it.

Tell me about it lol. Every time a new console would come out I was like there's no way the graphics can get any better than this ? Boy was I terribly wrong lol

nCoXo - March 12, 2021, 12:31 pm

I would say ps2 at the time I started gaming.

Neon™ - March 12, 2021, 12:39 pm

(Mar 12, 2021 01:31 PM)-Scrub Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Atari more than likely was my first gaming console . I had to Google it cuz I couldn't remember the name but I'm pretty sure a friend of mine had the Atari Jaguar from 90s. I remember there were some racing games and a fighting one similar to Mortal Combat. Solid console.

Proof - March 12, 2021, 12:43 pm

Not the oldest in my lifetime, but smash bros on n64 was the shit back in the 90s.

ghostboy - March 12, 2021, 12:57 pm

I had the big bulky and gray Gameboy. It was a bigass rectangle but I loved it. Then I got the SP and that fucked the game up.

Neon™ - March 12, 2021, 12:59 pm

(Mar 12, 2021 01:43 PM)Proof Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Not the oldest in my lifetime, but smash bros on n64 was the shit back in the 90s.

We used to go to my mate's house during the passing time between school classes because his house was right on the other side of street, and we played smash bros on his n64. We played Mario Kart on it too. I remember it like it was yesterday lol

Exalted - March 12, 2021, 1:03 pm

Mine would be the original PlayStation, such a great console. I still have it stored somewhere, going to get it out this weekend and play some Spyro and 007 ?

Neon™ - March 12, 2021, 1:17 pm

(Mar 12, 2021 01:57 PM)triple6 Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) I had the big bulky and gray Gameboy. It was a bigass rectangle but I loved it. Then I got the SP and that fugged the game up.

Yup, it was the SP that I wanted for so long but my parents never bought me one cuz I was a bad kid?. I couldn't wait to meet with my cousin cuz he had one. This kid had 200+ games lol.

(Mar 12, 2021 02:03 PM)Exalted Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Mine would be the original PlayStation, such a great console. I still have it stored somewhere, going to get it out this weekend and play some Spyro and 007 ?

Nice that you still have and it still functions. My first PlayStation was the PS2 and when I think about it, I never had any issues with it. One day I just put it back in its original box and it's still here. Makes me grab it now and play some Tony Hawk Pro Skater on it lol. I have the Spyro trilogy too! What a classic!

SIM-4967151 - March 12, 2021, 1:20 pm mine was a PlayStation One, simpler times.

HOMODIN - March 12, 2021, 1:23 pm

I feel old looking at people here getting in to gaming when PS2 was a thing. My first "console" was a C64 + NES, had both pretty much from the beginning of time. My brother went to the army and moved out so I got them when I learned how to use the remote for the TV. After that came N64 -> PS1 -> PS2 (and PC) -> XBOX -> XBOX360

?roye - March 12, 2021, 1:26 pm

I remember my mom buying me a PSP cuz I scored a 92% on my finals in 8th grade. Feels good.

Juoku - March 12, 2021, 2:03 pm

Tbh I don't even remember the name, probably a Sega one, the first console I actually remember using a lot was my Xbox , that was what started console gaming for me, before I was strictly PC.

Exalted - March 12, 2021, 2:06 pm

(Mar 12, 2021 02:17 PM)Neon™ Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Nice that you still have and it still functions. My first PlayStation was the PS2 and when I think about it, I never had any issues with it. One day I just put it back in its original box and it's still here. Makes me grab it now and play some Tony Hawk Pro Skater on it lol. I have the Spyro trilogy too! What a classic!

Yeah, it's fully functional and still in the original box; I love the older consoles. Nice! I still have my old PS2 too! A great console and I didn't have any problems with it either. Tony Hawk Pro Skater! Man, I love that game too!

I just found my Rollcage CD, and I remember playing this game a lot with friends back in the day:

Gameplay (Click to View)

Blue Sh - March 12, 2021, 2:08 pm

Sega Genesis as well and the first few games were as I remember adventure island, Mario, Sonic, quack shot, batman, spider man, Sunset Riders.

Just reminded me of the old times.

HEISENPUG - March 12, 2021, 2:13 pm

Sega Dreamcast with Sonic 3. Shortly after i had a Gameboy Color with Pokémon Blue which back then all the cool kids at school had.

Neon™ - March 12, 2021, 2:31 pm

(Mar 12, 2021 02:23 PM)HOMODIN Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) I feel old looking at people here getting in to gaming when PS2 was a thing. My first "console" was a C64 + NES, had both pretty much from the beginning of time. My brother went to the army and moved out so I got them when I learned how to use the remote for the TV. After that came N64 -> PS1 -> PS2 (and PC) -> XBOX -> XBOX360
Similarly I got my Sega Genesis from my brother who went to the army. At first I was so excited that I played Sonic the Hedgehog for hours. For me there was no better game at that time lol. What made you go for the XBOX after the PS2 ?

(Mar 12, 2021 02:26 PM)?roye Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) I remember my mom buying me a PSP cuz I scored a 92% on my finals in 8th grade. Feels good.

Still my favorite console, I've mentioned that multiple times here. Countless hours of not only games, but modding as well. Also made some nice $ by hacking the PSPs of the other kids in school so they could download pirated games.

(Mar 12, 2021 03:03 PM)Juoku Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Tbh I don't even remember the name, probably a Sega one, the first console I actually remember using a lot was my Xbox , that was what started console gaming for me, before I was strictly PC.

Same here, even though I was hooked to the Sega at first, after I switched to PC later I was x10 addicted lol. The consoles I've used the most are probably my PS2 and my PSP.

(Mar 12, 2021 03:06 PM)Exalted Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Yeah, it's fully functional and still in the original box; I love the older consoles. Nice! I still have my old PS2 too! A great console and I didn't have any problems with it either. Tony Hawk Pro Skater! Man, I love that game too!

I just found my Rollcage CD, and I remember playing this game a lot with friends back in the day:

Gameplay (Click to View)

Yooo Rollcage, I had this one too. This video brought back memories lol. Fucking crashing everywhere, going the wrong way, using boosts lmaooo what a masterpiece!

(Mar 12, 2021 03:08 PM)Blue Sh Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Sega Genesis as well and the first few games were as I remember adventure island, Mario, Sonic, quack shot, batman, spider man, Sunset Riders.

Just reminded me of the old times.

Sunset riders and Adventure Island! I forgot about these two! I remember we played Adventure Island on my cousin's console and it used to crash every time for whatever reason and once he threw the joystick so hard, that it broke xD

Nate - March 12, 2021, 2:48 pm

First one not including gameboys, and that shit was a PS2, or my dads old dreamcast

Neon™ - March 12, 2021, 2:56 pm

(Mar 12, 2021 03:13 PM)HEISENPUG Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Sega Dreamcast with Sonic 3. Shortly after i had a Gameboy Color with Pokémon Blue which back then all the cool kids at school had.

Hell yeah! The Dreamcast looked so futuristic for the 90s and the joystick was something else too :D You're the first to mention Gameboy Color, I don't remember anyone of my friends to have it. Most of them had the SP which I think came out later.

HOMODIN - March 12, 2021, 10:03 pm

(Mar 12, 2021 03:31 PM)Neon™ Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Similarly I got my Sega Genesis from my brother who went to the army. At first I was so excited that I played Sonic the Hedgehog for hours. For me there was no better game at that time lol. What made you go for the XBOX after the PS2 ?

Honestly, the XBOX was just something that I wanted, I kinda want one again, I lost all when my (and my neighbors) storage got raided bu some asshat. I'm actually looking for a good old classic xbox right now, the plan isn't to play it tho, the plan is to use the case and just build a pc in it and slightly modify the looks too.

618C - March 12, 2021, 11:16 pm

Buddy of mine had n64 with DK

I had a PS1 with: Driver,GTA 2, grantourismo, and james bond 2morro never dies. Man what a time to be born.

Had the first gameboy aswell with mario and pokemon yellow.

On my pc i had command and conquer 1 and gta 1. #OG

Psydark - March 12, 2021, 11:24 pm

playstation and first game was spyro. fucking love that little purple dragon fuck

Exalted - March 13, 2021, 12:05 am

(Mar 13, 2021 12:24 AM)Psydark Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) playstation and first game was spyro. fugging love that little purple dragon fugg

Spyro ? Going to grab my PS and CDs this weekend to bring back some memories.

oRequiem - March 13, 2021, 12:58 am

If I remember correctly, it was the gamecube. If not, 100% the ps1 then. Miss those days.

Neon™ - March 13, 2021, 2:15 am

(Mar 13, 2021 12:16 AM)618C Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Buddy of mine had n64 with DK

I had a PS1 with: Driver,GTA 2, grantourismo, and james bond 2morro never dies. Man what a time to be born.

Had the first gameboy aswell with mario and pokemon yellow.

On my pc i had command and conquer 1 and gta 1. #OG

You're the first one to mention Driver and Gran Turismo, both awesome games! I used to play them a lot and think that there's nothing better than the graphics on both games :D Indeed golden times!

I remember a friend of mine introduced me to the Command & Conquer on PC and I was so hooked that I got it myself and I remember my father got addicted as well lol.

(Mar 13, 2021 12:24 AM)Psydark Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) playstation and first game was spyro. fugging love that little purple dragon fugg

Spyro is a legendary game <3 Thinking about it, I never finished the last one.

(Mar 13, 2021 01:58 AM)oRequiem Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) If I remember correctly, it was the gamecube. If not, 100% the ps1 then. Miss those days.

Golden days, we can only remember them with a smile lol. I never had the GameCube, but I remember when I saw an ad about it (on TV I think), I thought that this is futuristic af and will probably last 10 years or more xD

Xhibit - March 13, 2021, 2:24 am

C64, and then Nintendo

Played Atari in between but was not mind.

Neon™ - March 13, 2021, 2:29 am

(Mar 13, 2021 03:24 AM)_Xhibit_ Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) C64, and then Nintendo

Played Atari in between but was not mind.

I never had a C64, but this thing had an inbuilt keyboard and everything, a full functional computer lol.

Xhibit - March 13, 2021, 2:31 am

(Mar 13, 2021 03:29 AM)Neon™ Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) I never had a C64, but this thing had an inbuilt keyboard and everything, a full functional computer lol.

C64?

Cmon Frogger and Pitman were the shit lol

Neon™ - March 13, 2021, 2:32 am

(Mar 13, 2021 03:31 AM)_Xhibit_ Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) C64?

Cmon Frogger and Pitman were the shit lol

Hell yeah! I played frogger on the Sega Imao, then I remember playing it on the PC too in the 90s. Pitman is another classic too.

Xhibit - March 13, 2021, 2:33 am

(Mar 13, 2021 03:32 AM)Neon™ Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Hell yeah! I played frogger on the Sega Imao, then I remember playing it on the PC too in the 90s. Pitman is another classic too.

I had Sesame Street Letter Go Round baby.

myabandonware.com/game/sesame-street-letter-go-round-269

Neon™ - March 13, 2021, 2:37 am

(Mar 13, 2021 03:33 AM)_Xhibit_ Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) I had Sesame Street Letter Go Round baby.

myabandonware.com/game/sesame-street-letter-go-round-269

It looks familiar but I'm not sure if I had this one. I remembered I also played Wolfenstein 3D on mine.

Xhibit - March 13, 2021, 2:40 am

(Mar 13, 2021 03:37 AM)Neon™ Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) It looks familiar but I'm not sure if I had this one. I remembered I also played Wolfenstein 3D on mine.
Wolf3D and DOOM.....

Back when Shareware was a thing lol

Neon™ - March 13, 2021, 2:46 am

(Mar 13, 2021 03:40 AM)_Xhibit_ Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Wolf3D and DOOM.....

Back when Shareware was a thing lol
DOOM... again countless hours spent on it. Oh man... what a great nostalgia.

I remember we used to exchange games in class lol. There were are also people selling pirated games on the local flea markets, that's where I was with my friends every weekend?

Xhibit - March 13, 2021, 3:16 am

(Mar 13, 2021 03:46 AM)Neon™ Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) DOOM... again countless hours spent on it. Oh man... what a great nostalgia.

I remember we used to exchange games in class lol. There were are also people selling pirated games on the local flea markets, that's where I was with my friends every weekend?
Got my ass banned from the FIRST computing class for doing a Disk to disk copy of DOOM lmao. ?
Good times

Neon™ - March 13, 2021, 3:56 am

(Mar 13, 2021 04:16 AM)_Xhibit_ Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Got my ass banned from the FIRST computing class for doing a Disk to disk copy of DOOM lmao. ?
Good times

Lmao I remember we used to install GTA San Andreas on the school computers during information science & technology class and we played it for good 2 hours until the class ended. ?? The teacher never bothered to check what we were doing.

Xhibit - March 13, 2021, 4:00 am

(Mar 13, 2021 04:56 AM)Neon™ Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Lmao I remember we used to install GTA San Andreas on the school computers during information science & technology class and we played it for good 2 hours until the class ended. ?? The teacher never bothered to check what we were doing.
I was given the colleges schools license keys for hooking one of my instructors up with Fifa 2000 ?
Ahh back in the good old days, when Napster still existed and BBS's meant something. lmao

.. Im getting flipping old yo...

Juoku - March 13, 2021, 6:25 am

(Mar 12, 2021 03:31 PM)Neon™ Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Similarly I got my Sega Genesis from my brother who went to the army. At first I was so excited that I played Sonic the Hedgehog for hours. For me there was no better game at that time lol. What made you go for the XBOX after the PS2 ?

Still my favorite console, I've mentioned that multiple times here. Countless hours of not only games, but modding as well. Also made some nice $ by hacking the PSPs of the other kids in school so they could download pirated games.

Same here, even though I was hooked to the Sega at first, after I switched to PC later I was x10 addicted lol. The consoles I've used the most are probably my PS2 and my PSP.

Yooo Rollcage, I had this one too. This video brought back memories lol. fugging crashing everywhere, going the wrong way, using boosts lmaooo what a masterpiece!

Sunset riders and Adventure Island! I forgot about these two! I remember we played Adventure Island on my cousin's console and it used to crash every time for whatever reason and once he threw the joystick so hard, that it broke xD

Oh yeah I almost forgot all about my PSP, loves it, I used to play it all the time, mainly WWE games tho lol

Neon™ - March 13, 2021, 6:27 am

(Mar 13, 2021 07:25 AM)Juoku Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Oh yeah I almost forgot all about my PSP, loves it, I used to play it all the time, mainly WWE games tho lol

Omg I forgot about the WWE. My favorite thing was to grab the chair or ladder from underneath the ring and the smash the heads of the opponents with it until there was blood all over. I was fugged as a child lmfao

Juoku - March 13, 2021, 6:30 am

(Mar 13, 2021 07:27 AM)Neon™ Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Omg I forgot about the WWE. My favorite thing was to grab the chair or ladder from underneath the ring and the smash the heads of the opponents with it until there was blood all over. I was fugged as a child lmfao

I loved smashing tables, I used to take RVD and use his special move after I got the other guy on the table.

oRequiem - March 13, 2021, 8:23 am

(Mar 13, 2021 03:15 AM)Neon™ Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) You're the first one to mention Driver and Gran Turismo, both awesome games! I used to play them a lot and think that there's nothing better than the graphics on both games :D Indeed golden times!

I remember a friend of mine introduced me to the Command & Conquer on PC and I was so hooked that I got it myself and I remember my father got addicted as well lol.

Spyro is a legendary game <3 Thinking about it, I never finished the last one.

Golden days, we can only remember them with a smile lol. I never had the GameCube, but I remember when I saw an ad about it (on TV I think), I thought that this is futuristic af and will probably last 10 years or more xD

It was so good, I remember playing some toy soldier game on it when I was a kid.

Pancake Boat - March 13, 2021, 8:29 am

I had a foldable Gameboy back when I was like 11, remember playing need for speed on it

Sect0r - March 13, 2021, 8:32 am

(Mar 12, 2021 11:47 AM)Neon™ Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) What was your very first gaming console?

Being a 90s kid, for me it was the: Sega Genesis (Mega Drive). Sometimes I still miss playing on it.

My first console was a ps3
I used to play a lot with my brother when I was 6-7 years old :p

Neon™ - March 13, 2021, 8:40 am

(Mar 13, 2021 09:32 AM)Sect0r Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) My first console was a ps3
I used to play a lot with my brother when I was 6-7 years old :p
Good times right? For me the first one was the PS2 of the Playstation series. Unfortunately I have no brother but I played non stop with my father on it lol, especially Fifa.

soulm8 - March 13, 2021, 8:42 am sega mega drive II :)

Good old days :)
now emulating

Gem - March 13, 2021, 8:42 am

PlayStation 1 was my first, it was incredible. Crash Bandicoot, Oddworld: Abe's Oddysee, Tony Hawk's Pro Skater, Spyro: Year of the Dragon, Croc: Legend of the Gobbos, Tomb Raider 2, Crash Team Racing, Disney's Hercules.

Rayman was the shiiiiit yo

Neon™ - March 13, 2021, 9:17 am

(Mar 13, 2021 09:29 AM)Caligio Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) I had a foldable Gameboy back when I was like 11, remember playing need for speed on it GameBoy was the real thing! I forgot NFS is that old so people played it in gen 2 consoles back then

(Mar 13, 2021 09:42 AM)soulm8 Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) sega mega drive II :)
Good old days :)
now emulating

This actually gave me the idea to play some old af games on emulator. Never tried it before.

(Mar 13, 2021 09:42 AM)Awake Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) PlayStation 1 was my first, it was incredible. Crash Bandicoot, Oddworld: Abe's Oddysee, Tony Hawk's Pro Skater, Spyro: Year of the Dragon, Croc: Legend of the Gobbos, Tomb Raider 2, Crash Team Racing, Disney's Hercules.

Rayman was the shiiiiit yo

So many good memories right? Crash, Rayman, Spyro and Tony Hawk's Pro Skater... oh man I miss those times

Dripstur - March 13, 2021, 10:10 am

My first gaming console was a Nintendo 64. Man the good ole days.

Sect0r - March 13, 2021, 10:46 am

(Mar 13, 2021 09:40 AM)Neon™ Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Good times right? For me the first one was the PS2 of the Playstation series. Unfortunately I have no brother but I played non stop with my father on it lol, especially Fifa.

My favorite game was Surf's up!
I still have the disc, but it's corrupted i think, its very scratched on the back, I can get to the title screen but beside that I cant do anything else :(
It was fun while it lasted though.

Neon™ - March 13, 2021, 10:48 am

(Mar 13, 2021 11:46 AM)Sect0r Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) My favorite game was Surf's up!

I still have the disc, but it's corrupted i think, its very scratched on the back, I can get to the title screen but beside that I cant do anything else :(

It was fun while it lasted though.

Surfs up! Another classic, I remember playing it on the Wii!

Sect0r - March 13, 2021, 10:55 am

(Mar 13, 2021 11:48 AM)Neon™ Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Surfs up! Another classic, I remember playing it on the Wii!

Apparently we also had a disc for Skyrim, but I was never able to make it work.

MarvinMalware - March 13, 2021, 11:01 am

Mine was also the Sega, I'm a bit younger but when I was a kid I remember my aunt giving me hers when she moved out. I absolutely loved that thing, I wish I still had it today.

Neon™ - March 13, 2021, 11:05 am

(Mar 13, 2021 11:55 AM)Sect0r Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Apparently we also had a disc for Skyrim, but I was never able to make it work.

Oh damn, the first time I played Skyrim was probably around 2012 or 2013 on my PC, never played it on console. Still one of my alltime favorite games.

(Mar 13, 2021 12:01 PM)Shoto Todoroki Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Mine was also the Sega, I'm a bit younger but when I was a kid I remember my aunt giving me hers when she moved out. I absolutely loved that thing, I wish I still had it today.

The Sega brings back so many good memories from my childhood... Mine is still here but I'm not sure if it works at all. Back in the day it was my most precious possession ?

MarvinMalware - March 13, 2021, 11:16 am

(Mar 13, 2021 12:05 PM)Neon™ Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Oh damn, the first time I played Skyrim was probably around 2012 or 2013 on my PC, never played it on console. Still one of my alltime favorite games.

The Sega brings back so many good memories from my childhood... Mine is still here but I'm not sure if it works at all. Back in the day it was my most precious possession ?

I just recently saw a picture of some old Sega games, sent me on a trip remembering all the great times as a kid spending hours on it. I know exactly what you mean lmao.

spyglass - March 13, 2021, 11:18 am

Commodore 64 and then the spectrum 128k, it is good to see how things have moved since then.

I used to love the sound when you loaded your cassette tape.

Neon™ - March 13, 2021, 11:29 am

(Mar 13, 2021 12:18 PM)spyglass Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Commodore 64 and then the spectrum 128k, it is good to see how things have moved since then.

I used to love the sound when you loaded your cassette tape.

Wow you're the first one to mention the ZX Spectrum. Never had the chance to play on one, the only time I've seen it was in the video games museum in Berlin.

spyglass - March 13, 2021, 11:43 am

(Mar 13, 2021 12:29 PM)Neon™ Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Wow you're the first one to mention the ZX Spectrum. Never had the chance to play on one, the only time I've seen it was in the video games museum in Berlin.

The spectrum 128k was a beautiful console for its day, sometimes it took hours to manually input a game from a game code book, what is a good thing because one mistake and it wouldnt run, so in effect it would make you look and and check the code more than once.

Neon™ - March 13, 2021, 11:52 am

(Mar 13, 2021 12:43 PM)spyglass Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) The spectrum 128k was a beautiful console for its day, sometimes it took hours to manually input a game from a game code book, what is a good thing because one mistake and it wouldnt run, so in effect it would make you look and and check the code more than once.

Wow that's crazy. I just watched a video on YT about the Sinclair ZX Basic, that's actually interesting af lol. I imagine back then this was the first introduction to programming for some people.

iNviZ - March 13, 2021, 11:55 am

The original Nintendo. Was bad ass, I loved duck hunt and Mario.

Maskin - March 13, 2021, 11:57 am

N64 and then PS1 but I was mostly a sucker for gameboy and pokemon games.

Neon™ - March 13, 2021, 12:06 pm

(Mar 13, 2021 12:55 PM)iNviZ Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) The original Nintendo. Was bad ass, I loved duck hunt and Mario.

First time I played duck hunt was on my best friend's Nintendo. They way this guy abused his console was crazy lmao. We also played River City Ransom which was another great game. Afterwards I got my own Nintendo and promised myself I'd never smash the joystick on the ground like my friend did?

(Mar 13, 2021 12:57 PM)Ocarina Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) N64 and then PS1 but I was mostly a sucker for gameboy and pokemon games.

Yup GameBoy... the console I never got from my parents because I was a bad kid who sprayed graffiti all over the neighborhood? Luckily my cousin had one so I played lots on his console.

spyglass - March 13, 2021, 12:14 pm

(Mar 13, 2021 12:52 PM)Neon™ Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Wow that's crazy. I just watched a video on YT about the Sinclair ZX Basic, that's actually interesting af lol. I imagine back then this was the first introduction to programming for some people.

Yes I fully agree there, it was my first introduction to programming and code, when you think about it is just to easy now, you put your CD in and play and job done, you are not learning nothing are you, most might just want that easy path but where is the education in that.

Maskin - March 13, 2021, 12:26 pm

(Mar 13, 2021 01:06 PM)Neon™ Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) First time I played duck hunt was on my best friend's Nintendo. They way this guy abused his console was crazy lmao. We also played River City Ransom which was another great game. Afterwards I got my own Nintendo and promised myself I'd never smash the joystick on the ground like my friend did?

Yup GameBoy... the console I never got from my parents because I was a bad kid who sprayed graffiti all over the neighborhood? Luckily my cousin had one so I played lots on his console.

Yeah I had gameboy on my wish list for quite a while before I got it. A funny twist to this is that I had a tetris game and MY MOM got addicted to that shit lol. I'd just play on my PS1 when she took my gameboy ?

Neon™ - March 13, 2021, 12:45 pm

(Mar 13, 2021 01:14 PM)spyglass Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Yes I fully agree there, it was my first introduction to programming and code, when you think about it is just to easy now, you put your CD in and play and job done, you are not learning nothing are you, most might just want that easy path but where is the education in that.

That's so true. Now you get everything ready to use, but in the past there was always this learning curve that you needed to go through in order to set up everything properly and understand how it works. That's how I liked it as well. Even setting up an internet connection for the first time took some time and education (and that's why I was literally the only kid with internet among my friends back then). Afterwards everything became easier and mainstream.

(Mar 13, 2021 01:26 PM)Ocarina Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Yeah I had gameboy on my wish list for quite a while before I got it. A funny twist to this is that I had a tetris game and MY MOM got addicted to that shit lol. I'd just play on my PS1 when she took my gameboy ?

Lmao for me it was the opposite, my mom was against any consoles and games but my father was a huge gamer so when I got my PS as a gift, he spent more time on it at first than me xD

siddy357 - March 13, 2021, 5:15 pm

(Mar 12, 2021 11:47 AM)Neon™ Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) What was your very first gaming console?

Being a 90s kid, for me it was the: Sega Genesis (Mega Drive). Sometimes I still miss playing on it. It was PS2 as i can remember.

ailo - March 13, 2021, 10:05 pm playstation 1, it was fun times, i wish i could back in time.

Bankrupt - March 13, 2021, 11:01 pm

n64, i remember a long while ago it got stepped on right in the morning and thrown out, i wonder if anyone ever ended up with it.