Thread: Why do homeless guys always go for bread and coke?

SIM-353284 - March 16, 2021, 5:55 pm

I have been watching many homeless videos throughout the world and in particular an African guy seems to be making the most recent helping homeless videos by the name of: BI Phakathi - channel: https://www.youtube.com/channel/UCVIpTFyrJzY2a9x-OI_YyNQ
It has occurred to me that they always go for bread and coke as their first choice of a meal, can we shed some light on this?

My best guess is they want bread cause it's basic and filling and they want a coke cause it's got the flavor they feigning for as a homeless man. It's a rare pleasure of theirs and coke has them by the balls apparently
I would've gone with a rootbeer personally

Coke because of the high, bread because of the calories and cost effectiveness.
You'd eat the cheapest for the best high if you were homeless and a drug addict.

I guess because they're cheap, filling and tasty, no one really thinks about being healthy when you're that down below.

Coke > All
I think nobody can't argue that

Bread makes the most sense as it's cheap, filling and is everywhere, you could also put tons of stuff in it to upgrade it, also you don't need much to store it and it doesn't go bad quickly.

Coke, I'm guessing is just their first soda choice and the most well known drink, water they probably get all the time

Maybe because they were thinking it will suffice their hunger if they will take bread and coke for their meal for it was both rich on carbohydrates :D

I hope someday they change coke and bread to 1 sack rice and 1 box of sardines per family.

God I am tired, I thought you meant bread and cocaine lmao

Btw that guy is super generous love his channel

it's something familiar and easy to eat when you've got next to no appetite or haven't eaten in a while. I always loved bread with some butter. Super simple.

Coke is a minor high i suppose, also somewhat nostalgic for most.

shakur123 - March 17, 2021, 8:14 am

I personally would go with water but i suppose coke will have to be better because of the sugars and high

I also thought he was talking about bread & cocaine.

I was over here thinking, "Well I guess it makes sense as cocaine suppresses your appetite, so at least he won't feel hungry for a while."

Lmao, I'm gonna take a nap

Damn I remember watching videos of this dude, what a kind soul!

I guess maybe cuz that's what they're used to. You get few coins, you go and buy a cheap drink with sugar from the vending machine. You're hungry? you go and buy bread cuz it's cheap and filling.
